Arlington gives 'neighborly' send-off to May 29 inductees

Mayor promises big welcome on return home

Thirty-two of the finest young men of Arlington Heights and vicinity were given a "neighborly" send off as they entrained for the induction center Friday, May 29. Legion and V.F.W. served the boys and others an early breakfast of coffee and doughnuts.

Members of the American Legion ate with the boys and recalled days when they, too, received coffee and doughnuts. Shortly before 7, acting Commander. Rippey called the boys together in front of the Legion hall and read off the induction order. The color guard of the Legion, the inductees, the drum and bugle corps, the Legion guard of honor, members of the auxiliary and friends of those leaving stood at attention at the flag raising ceremonies. The invocation was made by the Rev. Milo J. Vondracek of the Methodist church, Mayor Goedke wished the boys good luck, assured them that Arlington Heights was behind them 100 per cent and that as soon as they ended the trouble that the village would give them the finest and grandest welcome ever accorded anyone. He wished them all safe return. The Rev. Vondracek then pronounced a benediction and entrusted the boys to God's heavenly care.

All those present at the Legion hall formed a parade several blocks long. The color-guard and guard of honor led the procession, followed by the mayor and the minister, these in turn were followed by the Drum and Bugle Corps and the inductees. Friends and neighbors made up the rest of the parade. Arrangements were in charge of Les Griffith. Fond farewells and best wishes were extended to the boys as they boarded the 7:24 train for Chicago.

These are the inductees who entered their country's service May 29 from Cook county selective service board No. 1. They were "armed" inside and outside by a "neighborly" send-off planned by Merle Guild Post American Legion in cooperation with Arlington Heights post V.F.W. and kindred organizations.

Tri-State highway will pass through Stongate subdivision

Northwest area of the Chicago Motor Club has been advised that it is inadvisable to attempt to prevent extension of the Tri-State highway through Stonegate at Arlington Heights. The engineer of the Motor Club stated that plans for this road were prepared back in 1928 and that any real estate agency in this section was probably well aware of such a future highway. The highway department chose such a route because it was the most economical one as determined by their surveys.

The original subdividers of Stonegate allowed a 200 foot right-of-way for the road with a parkway between the two lanes. Tri-State highway, known as route 83, has been constructed from Indiana as far north as Higgins road.

Chicago Motor Club will make no further effort to hinder the project.

No traffic lights at Palatine-Northwest highway

The request of Mayor DePue of Palatine for installation of stop and go lights at intersection of Palatine road and Northwest highway has been deemed unnecessary as traffic flow is far below requirements.

"Stop sign ahead" signs will be installed at the approaches to Wolf road on Palatine road, Hinz road and McDonald road.

Three printers complete course at Northwestern

Three employees of Paddock publications received their certificates Friday evening on the lawn of Prof. Chas. Allen, of Northwestern University for having completed the first course in hand composition offered by Northwestern. This course of thirty hours had its beginning early last winter when in cooperation with the Cook County Suburban Publishers association, fifteen students, all employees of publishing firms in northern Cook county enrolled for the course.

Those from the Paddock organization who received their certificates were Robert Y. Paddock, assistant editor; Willard Schoepke, apprentice linotype operator and William Schoepke, a 1942 graduate of Arlington Heights high school, who is entering the employ of the publishing firm.

The lectures and practice classes taught the boys the fundamentals of the publishing business. A similar course, except on a more extended scale will be established by the university next fall to be termed "Newspaper Production Institute of the Medill School of Journalism." The course will cover all mechanical as well as newspaper management and editing of newspapers. Its purpose is to provide a complete training for young men and women to fill positions in newspaper plants throughout the middle west.

Other employees take courses

These were not the first of Paddock employees to take special training in their respective fields. Arthur and Milton Schoepke took courses in press work two years ago at a Chicago trade school and they can be personally credited for a large part of the high class printing that is being done in the print shop of H. C. Paddock Sons.

$20,000,000 war plant for Bensenville area

Army to buy 1300 acres for Douglas aircraft & airport

The twenty million dollar Douglas Aircraft assembly plant to be built in the Chicago area will be located near Bensenville and Franklin Park, three miles south of Des Plaines. The army is purchasing 1,347 acres between Higgins rd. and Bryn Mawr. The west boundary will be the Chicago & Northwestern valley line and the east will be Mannheim road, five miles north of the big Buick plant on North ave.

Public hearings will be held for Leyden township at the Mannheim school, corner of Grand ave. and Mannheim rd. at 7:15, June 18, and for Maine township at Park Ridge City hall at 8:00 o'clock.

The rezoning provisions call for a change in the east quarter of the property from farming to industrial. The west three quarters will be given a special classification permitting its use as an airport within three miles of an existing airport, the latter being the American Airways at Higgins and Devon ave.

An order condemning the land for use by the federal government was signed Monday by Judge William J. Campbell in federal district court. The tract, owned by 340 persons, contains farms, homes, truck gardens and subdivisions. Clarence Beatty Jr., assistant United States attorney, said the land is worth $1,000,000.

Douglas aircraft will use the plant solely for assembly purposes and the plant will be abandoned at the end of the emergency when the entire tract will go back to farm lands.

Work Starts on Arlington airport

Tractors and other machinery are in operation on 360 acres that the navy is taking over for the navy training airport southwest of Arlington Heights. It is reported that definite leases for the Dehn farms have not yet been signed. The Moehling tract will be purchased outright.

Cook County Zoning board is expected to insert in the zoning provisions a definite statement that when said property is vacated by the navy, its status will return to farm classification, although such a provision has not yet been adopted. Such was the promise that was given adjoining property owners at the public hearings held in Palatine and Arlington Heights.

Arlington Heights Boy is paratrooper

Pvt. Otto Jahrling, Jr., son of Mrs. Otto Jahrling, 230 S. Dunton, Arlington Heights, stationed at Ft. Benning, Georgia, expects to get his wings soon as a full-fledged paratrooper. Otto, who is in the U. S. Signal Corps, has already completed three weeks of a four weeks jump training course with a paratroop regiment. After he successfully passes these tests he will undergo five weeks ground training in radio communication.

When the war started, Otto had just concluded a four year enlistment in the United States Navy, having served practically all this time on the ill fated battleship, Arizona, which was sunk at Pearl Harbor, December 7.

Prior to his transfer to Ft. Benning, he was a radio instructor at Camp Wolters, Texas.

Tells story of escape from German Blitz

A J. Kramer, an engineer for one of the largest manufacturing firms in this country, has recently moved to Scarsdale, at whose home the Herald received a first hand story of his flight from Brussels in May, 1940; his difficult trip to Paris and the stopping of the home bound ship by a German submarine.

Increased fire protection is asked of village

Citizen group will consider plea of two local plants

Creamery Package and E. W. A. Rowles Co. are faced with either higher insurance rates or cancellation of existing fire policies unless increased fire protection is provided for their plants at Arlington Heights. In separate letters read to the village board Monday evening both asked the installation of six-inch water mains to points adjoining their properties.

At the present time Creamery Package is supplied from a four inch main which insurance companies say would be inadequate in case a fire broke out.

With the approval of the village board, Mayor Goedke appointed a citizens committee to study the situation and make recommendations to the board. The alderman agreed that there are no corporate funds available for the work and that the interested manufacturing plants would have to pay the cost unless the citizens committee can find some way to have benefited property owners pay a share of the expense or a fund raised by public subscription.

The members of the committee, each one of whom has agreed to act on the committee are: E. Malzahn, J. D. Flentie, John Allen, Walter Krause, Jr., Richard Jahn, Henry Mueller, Geo. F. Meyer, F. W. Gieseke, Homer J. Byrd, Carl Ewert, Alex Lips, Paul Taege and Peter Mors. This committee will meet Monday night.

Auto would not stop blazing

Orville Kurtz, So. State road, did not place a high value on his Ford car and today would sell it for almost $10, but that car is a persistent devil. A wire short started a blaze about two o'clock the other morning. Fire Chief R. F. Jahn answered the call and extinguished the blaze with a hand extinguisher. The car was backed out into the street and as the chief was leaving, satisfied that he had done a good job, a real blaze started, necessitating the calling out of the department. The pipe line had sprung a leak and the hotter the fire, the greater the leak and bigger the blaze. Salvage, four tires.

Voters may register now

Any unregistered voter may now register under the permanent registration law for the coming fall election and subsequent elections.

Voters may register at any time between June 3 and October 6, with their village clerk if they live in a village or with the township clerk of they live outside the village, but within the township.

All voters who have changed their address should request a change of address card so that their card will be in the files of the proper precinct when they go to vote at the all important November election.

Don't wait until the last minute to register, you've got all summer to do it in, but do it now.

Arlington Park ready for opening June 22

Arlington Park, the midsummer mecca of the sportivily inclined society folks, business leaders and everyday followers of the thoroughbred horse, is all ready for Chicago's greatest program of racing.

It is going to be interesting to see just how this most aristocratic of race courses fares with world conditions what they are, and Chicago, one of the major hubs of America's activities in the conflict that is on every one's mind.

There appears to be a general anticipation for the diversion and relaxation that will be provided in a racing way beginning June 22, the day that ushers in the greatest 67 consecutive days of racing in the history of the Windy City. Those 67 days include 36 at the huge north side plant and 31 days at Washington Park, near Homewood, south of the big town.

It will be Arlington Park's richest and most brilliant season since 1929, the best ever for Washington Park. The two tracks operating in close cooperation, have arranged a well balanced program of stakes and overnight events which will have a gross value of approximately $1,300,000.

Arlington Park's share of this is about $700,000. Its 21 stakes will have a total value of approximately $321,000. Of the 267 overnight races, 178 will carry purses of $1,500, while 17 will have values of $2,000 and $2,500. Not more than two races daily are planned for cheaper grades of horses and these will carry purses of $1,200. A strikingly similar program is in store for Washington Park, which will offer 18 stakes.

Heading Arlington Park's list of stakes is the $50,000 added Classic which will have its 14th running on June 25. Fifty-six top ranking 3 year olds, including Alsab, Shut Out, Requested, Sun Again and most of the other championship contenders are eligible for the Classic.

The 13th running of the $20,000 added Arlington Futurity will occur on July 18, the 14th running of the $10,000 added Arlington Lassie Stakes on July 11 and of course, the 14th running of the $10,000 Stars and Stripes Handicap will feature the July 4 program.

On closing day, August 1, will occur the 13th running of the Arlington Handicap, increased in value this year to $25,000. This stake was run last year on Arlington Park's famous grass course, but has been restored to the main track this year.

While the Arlington Handicap has been put back on the main track the program for the turf (grass) course also has been enlarged and enriched in value. It includes three stakes, the $7,500 added Grassland, $5,000 added Green Velvet and $3,000 added Rolling Lawn Handicaps.

Numerous offerings will be presented for fillies and mares, including four stakes headed by the $10,000 Matron Handicap for 3 year olds ad upward and, of course, the Lassie for juvenile fillies. The Cinderella Handicap for older mares will have its first renewal, while a new fixture, the Princess Doreen, is for 3 year old fillies at one mile.

One of Arlington Park's newer fixtures that occupied a prominent position on the stake schedule and which promises to become an annual outstanding event is the Equipoise Mile Handicap, named for the great "Chocolate Soldier" who established the present world's record for one mile (1.34 2-5) at Arlington Park ten years ago. Equifox, a son of Equipoise, won the inaugural running last year. Incidentally, Equifox also won the Arlington Handicap which his illustrious sire won in 1933.

In addition to the Futurity and Lassie, stake events for 2 year olds include the Primer and Hyde Park Stakes.

BULLETIN

Arlington Park will operate

Despite many rumors that the Arlington Park race meeting might be called off because of transportation difficulties, it seems an assured fact at this writing that the track will operate as usual and that the big 36 day meeting will open on schedule on June 22.

The Arlington management will cooperate whole heartedly with the government in all war efforts and as has been announced will donate the July 4th profits to the Army and Navy relief funds.

The Arlington management will meet its problems as they arise, but from all present indications the big summer meeting, the greatest in the country, will be run off as planned.

Prepare pool for opening

The Barrington pool will open this year only because citizens raised $500 in cash as a contribution to the Barrington Park Board. Arlington Heights board is relying on the same support it received last year in the sale of season tickets, and is enlarging on the swim program of previous years.

The swimming pool is undergoing a complete renovation in anticipation of the largest season in the history of the pool. The walls and bottom of the pool have been sand blasted and repainted with a special pool paint. The seams have been calked and the pool is almost ready to go. The chemicals have been purchased and the life guards are being obtained.

The Recreation commission is all ready to take applications for the season tickets which proved so popular last year. There were over 10,500 swims taken on these tickets last season.

The family ticket entitles the members of a family to as many swims as they may care to take. Any number, or all of the family may enter the pool during opening hours.

The individual memberships carry the same privileges.

Although there has been an increase in the expenses connected with running the pool the prices for the various memberships will be the same as last year, plus the Federal amusement tax.

The rates are as follows:

Family ticket, $5.00 plus 50c tax.

Adult ticket, $3.00 plus 30c tax.

14 through 18, $2.50 plus 25c tax.

13 yrs. and under, $1.50 plus 15c tax.

The following members of the Recreation Commission have season tickets for sale and will be calling on you in the near future.

Mr. M. A. Hogate, Mr. H. Baumann, Mr. R. Beatty, Mr. W. Hubbard, Mr. H. Freyermuth, Mr. C. Militzer, Mrs. May Wisersky, Mrs. Chas. Scherf, Miss Hefferen, Mrs. F. Briggs.

July 4th profits to go for Army and Navy Relief

Expect $125,000 to be realized

July 4th, the biggest day of the Arlington Park race meeting and in fact the biggest day of Chicago's entire racing season, has been designated as Army-Navy relief day by the management of Arlington Park.

On that day all profits from the operation of the track will be given to the Army and Navy relief funds and this benefit day is expected to net over $100,000 for the two relief agencies.

The question of transportation will have a great deal to do with the size of the crowd that day, but with any kind of transportation and Arlington's usual good luck with the weather, a sizeable turnout is certain and a fine sum is bound to be realized for Army-Navy relief.

Overflow crowd at defense meet

The largest civilian defense meeting yet to assemble in Arlington Heights met last Thursday night at the high school auditorium. Those present saw and heard a group of movies vividly portraying the destruction of great sections of London by fire and explosives. And they learned how America is being organized so that "it can't happen here."

Hundreds of residents of Arlington Heights, who are nearing the completion of their basic training courses in Civilian Defense, were among the large audience which filled every chair and overflowed onto the bleacher seats along the sides of the auditorium. Many others not now assigned to any of the protective services attended the showing of the movies.

Mr. J. E. Hutchins, fire department instructor of the state of Illinois, presented the pictures and briefly discussed his work in training fire fighters throughout the state. He complimented this community on the keen interest shown here and stated that the audience was by far the largest he had addressed in his months of work from Cairo to the Wisconsin border.

Fire Chief Richard H. Jahn, who had secured the pictures from the State Fire Department office, introduced Mr. Hutchins, following some explanatory remarks on Civilian Defense training by Co-ordinator Homer J. Byrd.

Meetings for the completion of the five-hour general training course which is required of all workers will be announced soon in the Herald columns.

Arlington flower show at field house this week

Plans for the Arlington Heights Flower and Garden show sponsored by the local Garden club, which will be held on June 5th and 6th in the field house are rapidly going forward, with members and exhibitors carefully nurturing their garden entries for the event.

The Patriotic display by the local units of the Bundles for America, which is sponsored by Mrs. George F. Hartford and Mrs. T. F. Coleman will be one of the outstanding attractions of the show.

Another outstanding exhibit will be the Charles Klehm Peony Farm exhibit which will include many of its finest varieties.

Entries of flowers, plants, vegetables and flower arrangements must be in by 10:30 Friday morning. A complete list of classifications appeared in last week's paper.

The judges, Mr. R. J. Mohr of the Garfield Park Conservatory and Mrs. Harry Beile will complete the judging before the opening hour of 1:30 p. m. on Friday afternoon.

All in the village or surrounding community who are interested in gardens whether members of the Garden club or not are urged to bring their best specimens of plants, flowers or vegetables for competition.

Light refreshments will be served in the basement by the Ladies' Aid of the Presbyterian church.

Tickets are now on sale for 22c for adults and 11c for children (including tax) and may be purchased from any member of the Garden club or from members of Bundles for America who will receive a part of the proceeds from the show. Tickets will also be on sale at the door.

Victory Week starts Sunday

The week of June 7-14 has been set aside as Victory Week. Six months have passed since that most treacherous attack on Pearl Harbor. The unity which has evidenced itself since that day has served to strengthen the desire of every man, woman and child in these United States for a quick and decisive victory. Much has been accomplished toward that end but there is still much left to be done.

Every citizen of the United States of America is asked to concentrate on the job of winning this war. At the same time, let us pay tribute to those gallant heroes of the Nation's Armed forces, who have made the supreme sacrifice that we and our children may enjoy the way of life that has made up our background since our pioneer days.

Edw. Allison, who has been appointed by Mayor Goedke, chairman of Flag Week committee, asks that all business houses display the American emblem during "Victory Week which starts June 7. Sunday, June 14, is Flag Sunday, when pastors of churches are asked to devote some part of their service to what the flag means to all of us.

During this week, beginning June 7th and lasting through June 14th, all citizens are requested to display flags during the entire period, and all business men are asked to display flags, buntings, etc., in their places of business.

Buys a Defense Bond to Help Drive Enemy Out of Fatherland

Mike Zeravich, who owns a few acres on Foundry road, east of Arlington Heights, has no automobile and uses a horse and buggy to do his weekly shopping at Mt. Prospect, but he wants to do his part to drive the Axis out of his fatherland, Jugo-Slavia. He called Carl Hammerl at the Mt. Prosepct State bank the other day and asked for a savings bond. As Carl delivered the bond, our staff photographer chanced to be passing by. "Shep" the dog is as faithful a friend to Mike as Mike is to his adopted country, the U. S. A.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"Ancient and Modern Necromancy, Alias Mesmerism and Hypnotism, Denounced" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, May 31.

The Golden Text was, "The idols have spoken vanity, and the diviners have seen a lie, and have told false dreams; they comfort in vain." (Zech. 10: 2).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "Let no man deceive you with vain words: For ye were sometimes darkness, but now are ye light in the Lord: walk as children of light: See then that ye walk circumspectly, not as fools, but as wise, Redeeming the time, because the days are evil" (Eph. 5: 6 (to :), 8, 15, 16).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Christian Scientists must live under the constant pressure of the apostolic command to come out from the material world and be separate. They must renounce aggression, oppression and the pride of power. Christianity, with the crown of Love upon her brow, must be their queen of life" (p. 451).

Arlington honors its soldier dead

No patriotic celebration has stirred the hearts of the village folk as did the Decoration day observance of last Saturday, when in a parade of civic bodies, the American Legion and its auxiliary, the Veterans of Foreign Wars, boys and girls organizations complete with the high school band and drum and bugle corps marched to Memorial Park to honor our soldier dead, at a time when America is again at war and calling on its youth to serve.

Following the parade a memorial program was held at the park with Rev. Milo J. Vondracek, pastor of the Methodist church as speaker of the day.

Rev. Vondracek in an inspiring message said that "out of the hallowed moments of the bloody battle fields of the past has come the America that we love," a nation that is now at war as a coveted prize of other nations. True America is found in the homes of its citizens and in its friendliness and neighborliness one to another, which makes America singularly strong, serves as a bulwark against tyrany. "As we have pioneered in the Democratic form of government, so must we pioneer in world citizenship," stated Rev. Vondracek, that those whose lives and deaths have enriched these prairies and valleys, may look down upon us to enrich a world even as they enriched and hallowed a nation through blood, sweat and tears. That the memory of the dead may be blessed in hallowed rest."

Miss Ruth Hefferen, V.F.W. auxiliary president and Mrs. Thelma Carroll, president of the Legion auxiliary, placed wreaths on the Memorial monument, taps sounded and the entire assembly of citizens and those on the program sang the national anthem led by the high school band, an inspiring example of patriotism in a world at war.

Fitting ceremonies followed at the cemetery where the graves of soldier dead were decorated.

Eighty-one attend nutrition class

Eighty-one persons were present to hear of vitamins at the first meeting of the Arlington Heights nutrition class which meets every Monday for the next seven weeks at 1:30 in the field house. Anyone who may have missed the first session may still join the class for the remaining period.

A New Way
In An Old Art

Twenty years ago a new word was coined — "Vitamin" — that term described certain mysterious substances in food essential to life and health—magical factors which help bridge the gap between physical matter and the processes of life.

By 1920 some of the vitamins were understood, although not seen or analyzed; by 1930 most of them had been analyzed; by 1940 many were produced synthetically in test tubes.

The vitamins aren't like so many grains of salt and pepper. They are little bits of life. They are tender and delicate; they can be destroyed, completely lost from the foods which contain them. "Getting Enough Vitamins" isn't just a matter of buying vitamins in foods or choosing a rich menu in them. It is a matter of cooking these foods correctly so that the vitamins will be retained. It is not a question of whether you are a good cook—of course you are a splendid cook—but rather did the meal you prepared for your family provide those factors which bring pep to enjoy life, energy to work successfully, and immunity and resistance to help ward off disease? In short, did the foods you prepared still contain the vitamins that nature put there?

Emergency Food and Housing O.C.D.

Scout camporee at Camp Dan Beard

The annual camporee for the troops and patrols of the Northwest Suburban council will be held at Camp Dan Beard near Wheeling starting Friday afternoon, June 19 and closing with a council-wide Court of Honor on Sunday afternoon, June 21.

Visitors to the camporee are always welcome, and they will see the various troops camping under their own leadership, in tents, using their patrol organization as a camping unit. Otto E. Harz, Council chairman of the committee on Camping and Activities, assisted by R. B. Leslie, director of campcraft and their staff and committee have planned an interesting program of activities for the three days, and it is expected that a larger number of troops, patrols and scouts will attend this year than ever before.

Under the direction of Scout Commissioner H. F. Koelling each patrol will be carefully observed and will be given a rating based on their demonstration of camping and their participation in the activities program. Patrols receiving 800 points or more will be presented with a blue ribbon. Tnose receiving 600 to 799 points will receive a red ribbon and those receiving 400 to 599 points, a white ribbon.

One of the features of the camporee will be the Camp Fire program Saturday evening. Norton H. Gilbert of Mt. Prospect will be master of ceremonies and everyone is assured the finest possible program..

On Sunday afternoon the June Session of the Court of Honor will be held and awards will be made to the scouts from all over the council.

Visitors are cordially invited to attend at any time, but the Saturday night and Sunday afternoon programs will be particularly interesting.

Scout camp opens June 21

The Boy Scouts of the Northwest Suburban Council are eagerly looking forward to the summer training at Camp OH-DA-KO-TA which opens for an eight-week season on June 21.

Located on Dyer Lake near Burlington, Wisconsin, Camp OH-DA-KO-TA provides an ideal setting for scout training and all the activities which are included in the program of scouting.

The camper starts his period of camp by registering in the early part of the afternoon on Sunday and has his first meal in camp that evening. His last meal in camp is Sunday noon dinner, where the various awards for the week are presented. The time in between gives every scout the opportunity to progress in his advancement program and to receive special training in any activity in which he is particularly interested.

Waterfront activities at camp OH-DA-KO-TA are particularly fine, with 14 rowboats, 6 canoes and 4 sailboats. Under the leadership of the waterfront director and his corps of life guards and instructors every non-swimmer is taught to swim and others have a splendid opportunity to improve their swimming ability and to qualify for the various merit badges having to do with the water. These include swimming, life saving, rowing, canoeing and seamanship.

A considerable number of scouts have already registered for camp OH-DA-KO-TA, the majority of whom are staying at least two weeks, with several being registered for four weeks. It is very important that each troop get their registrations in to scout headquarters just as soon as possible. A longer camp season this year will assure every scout an opportunity to go, but unless registrations are made well in advance, the scout or troop may not get to go at the time they most desire. A considerable number of scouts have signified their intentions of attending but have not sent in their registrations.

The following scouts of this district are registered:

Troop 23 of Mt. Prospect — Donald Hotz; troop 15 of Skokie — Bruce Cook, Robert W. Blessing.

NOT OUT OF YESTERDAY'S SAVINGS
True patriotism requires that you buy U. S. War Bonds and Stamps out of your current earnings and not out of your past savings. By the sacrifice of unneeded things you help your country in its war effort.
Remember that savings deposits have been largely invested in Government bonds by the banks. The purchase of bonds and stamps by individuals from their savings can put little or no new money in Uncle Sam's hands. And we'll practice the Golden Rule.

We'll teach you how to do things,
To play and work together.
We're meeting every morning at nine
Regardless of the weather.

The great Light of all the world,
Through drama, song and study
The great mysteries will be unfurled.

We're starting June the fifteenth,
At nine o'clock on the dot.
We know that you'll enjoy the school
Not a little bit, but a lot.

So tell your friends, then bring them
You'll not regret it if you do.
We're offering this opportunity
It's entirely up to you.

Every child is endowed with a healthy appetite for something new and interesting. Parents of Arlington Heights can provide the children and the Council for the Community Vacation Church School will supply that elusive something new and interesting to satisfy that appetite.

Adventures in music, literature, nature, architecture and people, their relationship to God, and to the average person, will be conducted daily in this school. Supervised recreation and handwork will bring out talent never dreamed of. Pledges of allegiance to the American flag, to the Christian flag and to the Bible will be taught. New songs, new dramatizations, new games will be featured. Friends and fellowship with each other, from the youngest to the oldest, will be enjoyed. Learning to get along with the other fellow, helping him and training him will be stressed.

Your child really can't afford to miss the opportunity presented.

Registration for the Community Vacation Church School has been set for Saturday afternoon, June 13, from one o'clock to four o'clock. The place for registering your child is the Presbyterian church.

Every child between the ages of four to fourteen, regardless of denomination, is eligible for this school. Classes will be held from 9:00 a. m. through 11:40 each morning from June 15 through July 3.

Council members are going ahead at top speed to provide the best teachers, classes, recreation, handwork, and equipment necessary for a successful project.

The Community Vacation Church School is being sponsored by the St. John's Evangelical church, the Methodist Episcopal church and the Presbyterian church. The school will be conducted at the Presbyterian church.

Don't forget to register.

Infant clinic next Tuesday

Even babies who seem to be perfectly well, should be examined regularly by a doctor.

Health check-ups make it possible for the doctor to advise the mother on correct feeding, to see how well the baby is growing and to look for early physical defects.

The Arlington Heights Health committee in cooperation with the Tuberculosis Institute of Chicago and Cook county sponsor such monthly infant conferences.

The next baby clinic will be held next Tuesday, June 9, from 1:30 to 3 p. m. at the Health Center in the Village hall.

Mothers of children from two weeks to two years may register at the clinic.

State Approves Motor Fuel Projects

State highway department has given its approval to road repair projects totaling $5,000 which will be completed the coming six months; approval was also given to the naming of three new arterial highways.

The state auditor's report of gas tax funds used by Arlington Heights covering a two year period was received. Only a few minor items were questioned.

Salvation Army was granted permission to hold a Gen. MacArthur tag day in Arlington Heights some day this month.

A state chemist spent the larger part of one day at Arlington's sewage treatment plant recently checking the manner in which tests were run by Engineer Harris. He had no complaints over the operation of the local plant but asked that additional daily tests be made by the engineer. Harris said, "O. K. if I have time to do it."

Expressions of appreciation were received from Farm Adviser C. A. Hughes, for the manner in which the police department had handled the parking problem at the Farm Bureau building.

Fire Chief Jahn presented a request to the village that the expenses be paid by the village for sending three delegates to the state school of fire instruction to be held at University of Illinois June 16-19. Jahn hinted to the board that the department is considering the early purchase of some additional fire fighting equipment at its own expense. The board agreed to pay the costs of the delegates.

Report of the village treasurer for May showed cash receipts of $30,000. The larger amounts were being secured from the following sources: 1941 taxes, $17,839; water sales, $5,304.00; liquor licenses, $4,200; vehicle taxes, $310; dog licenses $278; business licenses, $105; fines, $262.

Discover 1928 Mistake of Sewer Contractor

Mayor Goedke drew the attention of the board to the fact that the contractor who installed sewer in Stonegate had failed to connect some of the catch basins with the sewer. An attempt will be made to have the contractor pay for the correction of the error that he made over a decade ago.

Tells of flight from Belgium and German blitz

by RUTH BABBITT

Mr. A. J. Kramer, of 412 S. Belmont ave., Scarsdale, was in Brussels and later in Paris at the time of the Nazi invasion. Mrs. Kramer and their then six months old son, Jack, arrived in Chicago from Europe the first day of the Blitz.

As chief engineer of the European branch of his company, Mr. Kramer was accustomed to travel throughout the greater part of Europe. As far back as 1934, he stated, the Germans predicted their large scale invasions of the rest of the continent. The original plan was to join with the Japanese in attacking Russia simultaneously from both directions. America was not to have been any help to Russia, because as soon as war was declared, Nazi agents planned to start a revolution here. England, as well, the Germans believed, was dying a slow death.

On May 8, 1940, Mr. Kramer was in Brussels, the headquarters city of his company. For some time there had been air-raid alarms, which were not taken too seriously. In addition he had seen German planes shoot down Belgian ones even before war was declared. However, on this particular night he heard the sirens shriek so loudly and so insistently that he knew something was really happening. Looking out he saw a sky full of German bombers. One seemed to have been hit but instead was maneuvering to drop a bomb. It just happened that Mr. Kramer saw this bomb strike a nearby building. This one shell completely destroyed a five-story building. This building, said Mr. Kramer, "dissolved like an aspirin tablet only upward."

The Germans deliberately bombed civilians to kill and terrorize them and to make them easy prey for the advancing soldiers. In the morning he couldn't reach his office, for there was too much glass in the streets. Many streets were blockaded, and such forms of transportation as street cars were not running.

Mr. Kramer stayed in Brussels with the rest of the Americans until one week later it was decided that those who had cars would drive the ones who didn't to Paris. In his car there were six men, each carrying only one suitcase. All the rest of their belongings had to be left in Brussels.

The first day's trip was made by winding through the British lines. From time to time Nazi planes would swoop down to machine gun civilians or destroy a single house. At night-fall the carload of Americans reached Ypres and began to search for a room. Finding none and being told by a policeman that the secret police would search the car every few minutes if they returned to it, they went to the nearest cafe and slept that night on a pool table.

In order to cross the frontier, they had to try at several different places. At first they got behind about a thousand cars and discovered they could not get through. Next they tried a different route where there seemed to be only military trucks. This time they succeeded in crossing but soon discovered that the roads were policed by British soldiers who said they could allow no Americans to get to Paris.

One night in a pouring rain Mr. Kramer and his party reached a small town outside of Paris. Here an old Frenchman approached the car and asked who they were. On hearing they were Americans, he brought umbrellas and raincoats and found them a place to eat and sleep. The next morning they filled their gasoline tank and had breakfast. The only way they could make the French take money was to say it was for the soldiers, since they considered the Americans as refugees. When Mr. Kramer asked who the old man was, he was told he was the mayor of the town.

After they discovered that the only way to reach Paris was to go a long way around, they started out once again. After five days they completed what was normally the five hour trip from Brussels to Paris.

When he had been in Paris for five days more, Mr. Kramer was advised by the American Embassy to go to Bordeaux. This was a one day trip, and in Bordeaux, he stayed in a private home. Here as in most of France, there were no hotel rooms available. He and his party were preparing to go to Lisbon to get a boat to the United States but were informed that the S.S. Washington was docking in Bordeaux to take Americans home. On June 8 they set sail, and they just got under way when they were stopped by two German submarines. Immediately the passengers were required to take to the life-boats which were lowered down the side of the ship. When the Captain finally convinced the Nazis that the passengers were Americans, the Washington went full speed ahead for three quarters of an hour without even stopping to raise the boats to the deck. They encountered other submarines on the way, but no threat was so serious as the first one. In addition, the weather was foggy during the entire trip.

One per cent vote in Palatine; less in Wheeling

In the lightest vote in history, Palatine township cast 27 votes out of a possible 2,700 in the judicial election Tuesday.

There was no contest in this, the 7th district, for a member of the supreme court, Justice Francis S. Wilson, a Chicago democrat being unopposed for re-election.

But down state in three districts where there were contests the republicans made a clean sweep, even electing their man in the first district from which a republican had never been elected before.

The first district comprises 24 counties in southern Illinois and the G.O.P. carried 18 of those counties in what has always been a democratic strong hold.

In two other districts the results were a landslide for the G.O.P.

Victory dance to name queen of 10th district

Phil Levant 11-piece orchestra to furnish music

Phil Levant, famed radio, recording and dance band leader, who has the distinction of furnishing the music on the opening night of the USO servicemen's club in downtown Chicago, has been engaged to play the 10th division Office of Civilian Defense "Victory Dance" at St. Mary's Training School Auditorium, Des Plaines, Saturday night, June 20. The "Victory Dance" was arranged at the suggestion of Mayor Charles Garland of Des Plaines, director of the 10th division, to raise a fund for the conduct of OCD division affairs for the year 1942.

Maestro Levant, whose orchestra was selected from 10 "name" attractions to headline the "Victory Dance," needs no introduction to dance devotees. For several seasons his orchestra held forth in the Walnut room of the Bismarck hotel in Chicago and more recently were a hit attraction in the Rhumba Casino broadcasting nightly over WBBM and WJJD. He is bringing with him the same 11 piece organization that has made him a radio and dance band favorite with young and old in Chicago and at some of the major hotels and supper clubs throughout the country.

One of the highlights of the "Victory Dance" will be the selection of "Miss Victory" from girl contestants nominated through the cooperation of newspaper editors of the suburban press. Friends of young ladies living in Park Ridge, Arlington Heights, Des Plaines, Wheeling, Prospect Heights, Schiller Park, Edison Park, Mt. Prospect and other suburban communities in the 10th division area are invited to nominate a girl from their community on the blank carried in this week's paper. The nominations will close on Tuesday, June 9th, at midnight and the following week the list of girls entered in each community will be published in their local paper. Voting for "Miss Victory" will then begin with stubs attached to the OCD "Victory Dance" tickets serving as ballots. Ticket stub votes may be deposited at your newspaper office on or before June 17th. They will then be counted and finalists from each town announced for the last two days of balloting for "Miss Victory." Newspaper editors from the various communities will make the final "Miss Victory" ballot count at 10 p. m. on the night of the dance with voting continuing until that time.

"Miss Victory" and her court of girl winners will be honored guests at a dinner party in a Chicago hotel or supper club some evening following the dance. Details of this party are yet to be worked out.

Mrs. D. A. Grant, Arlington Heights OCD and civic leader, has volunteered to serve as ticket chairman in collaboration with Chief of Police Howard Becker of Des Plaines, who will handle the sale of the special "Sponsor's tickets." Mrs. Grant will seek the cooperation of OCD co-ordinators, air raid wardens, and other OCD officials at the division OCD meeting in Des Plaines this Friday night in handling the distribution and sale of the tickets which will be priced at $1.10 per couple. John Yaccino, musical director at St. Mary's, will be in charge of arrangements at the auditorium for the night of the dance. Frank Burke of Des Plaines is serving as general chairman.

War plant

north of Chicago on [illegible] which include the old Glenport, it was disclosed here [illegible] by Lieut. Comm. G. A. T. Washburn.

The 12½ million dollars being spent there has been allocated with an eye to the near future in which huge inland airports will be required for squadrons that will circle off Brazil's coast one day and be needed on the arctic circle the next.

"At this time," Comm. Washburn said, "we are pushing the training phases of this new program. We've got our flight and ground training classes in operation and by July and August we'll have 400 of those little yellow biplanes flying around this field. Boys from the navy's new induction centers at Iowa university and other middle western schools will be pouring in."

125 Miles of Landing Areas

"We're putting in enough concrete runway and landing mat areas," he said, "to make the equivalent of 125 miles of standard 20 foot highway. All runways will be 200 feet wide and will range from 5,200 feet to 6,800 feet in length—the latter to be located on the old Pickwick golf course."

Comm. Washburn said the navy's decision to make Glenview a big primary training base resulted primarily from the fact that huge fields on the Gulf coasts and in Florida already have outgrown their traffic space. For the training here 16 outlying auxiliary fields ranging from 180 to 1,000 acres apiece already have been bought or condemned, and most of the actual air training will be carried out from the auxiliaries.

In considering loan applications we inquire into the reason or purpose to be sure that the loan will be good for the borrower and the bank, and to make certain that it will not conflict with the defense program. Thus loans for education, to consolidate debts, to pay medical expenses, etc. would qualify as sound, while loans which resulted in needless debt, or which involved use of vital defense materials, would not.

The Des Plaines city council last week stretched its city zoning law to permit a $4,000 home to be constructed. Specifications of the house allow a lot frontage of 37½ feet, in contrast to the minimum allowance of 40.

Factors representing a favorable light on the project were a federal priority rating on materials and a supposed increase to neighborhood land valuation as a result of the improvement.

AIR RAID PRECAUTIONS

Warning signals

The general air raid warning will be a fluctuating or warbling signal of varying pitch, lasting two minutes. After two minutes of silence the same signal is repeated for another two minutes.

Here is what the air raid warning means:

1. Blackout (if at night). Make certain that no light can penetrate to be visible from the outside.
2. All traffic stops.
3. Take shelter. Get off and keep off the street.

When the proper authorities have concluded that all danger from enemy planes is past an "all clear" signal will be sounded.

The "all clear" is a continuous signal of unvarying pitch lasting two minutes. This will be followed by two minutes of silence when the all clear signal is repeated once.

The "all clear" means the air raid is over.

However, be cautious — all danger is not passed. Buildings may have been weakened by bomb blasts — parts of them may fall. Unexploded bombs may be lying about. Gas may be present. BE CAREFUL.

Seven Members, 672 Years

Seven members whose ages totaled 672 years attended the 1941 convention of the G. A. R. in Lake Placid, N. Y. The department commander, Henry Lilly, 100, and Mrs. Lilly came from Rochester by bus.

"Why, David—are you trying to say you want me to be co-owner on your War Savings Bonds from now on?"

New regulations for recapped and new tires

Subject: Persons abusing and neglecting tires will henceforth forfeit their right to certificates.

No certificates for either a new tire or a recapped tire may be issued if the applicant fails to prove to the Board that the carcass to be replaced was not rendered unusable due to his neglect or abuse. The burden of proof is on the applicant. Only where denial of a certificate would cause serious loss to the community may an exception be made.

The only persons who may purchase new or recapped tires today are those who perform functions vital to their community and their country. They are in effect trustees of their country's welfare and anyone of these, who abuses or neglects his tires, violates the trust vested in him.

As a guide in determining what should constitute abuse or neglect, we call attention to the following:

1. Improper inflation of tires.
2. Immoderate speed.
3. Quick application of brakes (except in emergency).
4. Carelessness alongside curbs.
5. Fast starts.
6. Improper wheel alignment.
7. Improper balance of wheels.
8. Failure to apply for recapping until the tire carcass is blown out or otherwise ruined.

Obviously, careful driving at all times and constant inspection must become a habit with all drivers.

Sugar to Churches

There have been numerous inquiries as to the status of churches, clubs, lodges and other private organizations, which occasionally serve meals, hold banquets, give benefit dinners, etc. Such organizations may not register as institutional users unless they maintain an establishment for the regular preparation and service of meals. In order to qualify as such an organization, it must serve at least four meals each week. Sugar for meal service of those organizations which cannot qualify as an institutional user under the above requirements may be obtained thru contributions by consumers.

Removing Stains From Glass

Old decanters and jugs frequently have unsightly incrustations. If these stains are obstinate, the decanter should be filled with tepid soapy water containing a little borax and let stand several hours. If this does not do the work, crushed eggshells should be added to the solution and the whole shaken to provide friction.

Gas rate is reduced

Approximately 171,000 residential, commercial, and small industrial gas customers of the Public Service Company of Northern Illinois will pay $735,000 less per year for gas under a reduced rate schedule just approved by the Illinois Commerce Commission.

Of the $735,000 reduction, residential customers of the company will benefit to the tune of $567,000 in their use of gas for cooking, water heating, and space heating, while the balance of the reduction will apply to commercial and small industrial consumers.

The new rates, according to the Commission Order, are retroactive to April 1, 1942, and the company will start billing customers under the reduced schedules as quickly as possible. Credits which customers are entitled to since April 1, will be applied on future bills as soon as routines can be worked out.

The three-quarter million dollar rate reduction represents the entire reduction in cost of natural gas charged the Public Service Company by Natural Gas Pipeline Company of America, and results from a recent Court decision ordering the Pipeline company to lower its rates.

Riverview, Chicago's famous amusement park and largest outdoor center of its type in the world, will maintain its well-known system of bargain days and nights this season.

This announcement was made today by Park President George A. Schmidt, who said that Monday, Wednesday and Friday will be 2c days throughout the season, while Tuesday and Thursday evenings will be 5c nights. Until school closes, Saturday will also be a 2c day for the convenience of children in the Chicago area.

"Not only are persons admitted to the Park at these reduced prices on bargain days and nights but many rides and midway attractions may also be enjoyed at the same low rates," Mr. Schmidt pointed out.

Mr. Schmidt also reminded service men that they are admitted free at the gates any time when in uniform.

The "Comet," new high speed thriller at the Park, is pressing the "Bobs," the mile-a-minute roller coaster, and the "Pair-O-Chutes," 220-foot parachute jump, for top honors in popularity among visitors during the season's first few days.

It Happened Here

Lin lanning, cleaning and pressing, bro't the sapphire velvet dress home, "As good as new; got all the spots out and saved 'em in an envelope pinned to the dress." Lin prides himself on his "line"; he never picks up the man's suit without asking, "Any of the beautiful lady's beautiful dresses to go tdoay?" Lin has served the family for many years and is always interested in those who have married and gone, in the one in Colorado with her two fine boys who do roping tricks, in the one, now a major, serving his country on a Texas flying field, and in the others, scattered here and there. Seriously handicapped, Lin has never let his crippled condition quench his jovial "line" nor prevent his doing a mansized job without leaning on the government. The victory garden cult has started a type of espionage as exasperating as it is funny; chance passers are liable to ask, "When you going to start your garden?" "H'm, mine's up ready to hoe," and they walk slowly along the fence eyeing the flowers, as if a lemon lily was a sin and two iris a crime, garden wardens, huh? Jim, the laundry man is perfectly maudlin about his garden. "I've got something new in my garden," he boasted; "you'd never guess — a hive of bees! Yes, sir, by fall I'm going to have plenty of honey — save sugar, you know. I peeked in and there's a good start already; oh, my garden has plenty for the bees to feed on and there's lots of sweet clover around." Well, it seems that bees need flowers to provide sweets for the sugar rationed and it's our private opinion that the world needs flowers and beauty and a bit of poetry and whimsy as much as it needs the humble vegetable which the rabbits sabotage, anyhow.

MORAL STRENGTH

The cultivation of the moral judgment is the crucial need of civilization.

—Dr. Torrance Phelps.

In conduct do not make trifles of trifles. Regard the smallest action as being either right or wrong, and make a conscience of little things.

Spurgeon

From lack of moral strength empires fall. Right alone is irrestible, permanent, eternal.

—Mary Baker Eddy.

Those love truth best who to themselves are true,
And what they dare to dream of, dare to do.

—Lowell.

I am not bound to win, but I am bound to be true. I am not bound to succeed, but I am bound to live up to the light I have.

—Lincoln.

Know ye not, that to whom ye yield yourselves servants to obey, his servants ye are to whom ye obey; whether of sin unto death, or of obedience unto righteousness?

IT'S THE LAW

WHAT'S IN A NAME?

As the old saying has it, a rose by any other name would smell as sweet. And so it is, in a way, with Public Notices which are known by several names.

Since it indicates exactly what they are and what they are intended for, the best name for them is Public Notices. Other names used for them are Legal Advertising and Official Advertising, or just Legals. But the first is the best because it's the most accurate description.

Where such a Notice is required or permitted by law, its purpose is to publish information or to give a warning. Hundreds of kinds of Notices have sprung up over years. They affect all kinds of human activities and relationships.

But there is one thing to remember: it does little good to give such a Notice or to "post" such information where it is not likely to be seen, especially by those directly affected. Because America is a newspaper reading nation, the newspapers of this country are by far the best medium for giving proper and adequate publicity to Public Notices.

Outside of Notice served directly on the persons concerned, by mail or in person, the columns of the newspapers offer the best means of accomplishing the purpose intended by the Public Notice.

THE HOME FRONT

We on the Illinois Home Front are fighting a three-sided war — war on the field of arms, war under the factory roofs, war on the rolling farms. To win this war we are raising a fighting force of at least 8,000,000 soldiers and sailors together with a labor force of 20,000,000 and an agricultural force of 12,000,000 — U. S. men and women. If any one of these armies fails, all will fail.

The War Manpower commission has been casting around for a source of these armies. It estimates that 7,000,000 to 8,000,000 will come from suspended civilian industries, 400,000 to 600,000 from farms, 400,000 from the professions, 1,500,000 from the temporarily unemployed and 2,000,000 from the home for enlistment in the Army of the Home Front. The peace-time mechanic, the mechanically inclined farm hand, the retired worker, the woman without children, boys under draft age and girls in their late teens are sought.

If you fall into any of these categories and want to do your part, get in touch with the nearest U. S. Employment Service office and see if they have a war job for which you are fitted. The first rule of total war is not to waste manpower. Everyone must be fitted into the task for which he is best suited — there must be no square pegs in round holes.

Trucks

Office of Defense Transportation orders calling for a 25 percent reduction in truck mileage, elimination of less-than-capacity loads, overloading and non-essential services, went into effect June 1. Simultaneously, all but essential motor deliveries were limited to one a day. ODT supervision in Illinois was assumed by Harry L. Gormley, a New Castle, Pa., trucker, June 2. Gormley's office is in the Civic Opera Building, Chicago.

Tin cans

A tin can salvage program to reclaim large quantities of tin and steel scrap will begin soon in Chicago and 35 other U. S. cities advantageously located for rail shipment to detinning plants, it was announced Monday by Nathaniel Leverne, state director of WPB industrial conservation. Chicago will be the only Illinois city participating at this time.

'Liz' gives 10,000 tons

Automobile "graveyards" on the Illinois Home Front moved 10,325 tons of metal scrap in April . . . Illinois and county war boards already functioning under the U. S. Department of Agriculture will aid farmers to set up transportation pools to eliminate unnecessary driving in hauling their produce to market and transporting farm supplies . . . Some 7,000 middle western scientists, technologists and production engineers are members of the new WPB Technical Development section formed last week in Chicago . . . OPA decreed that 1942 lines of women's girls' and children's outer clothing shall be priced at the same level as in 1941.

Up-grading

"Hidden" price rises have popped up to plague OPA since the May 18 freezing of retail prices. Such rises can be effected in many ways, ranging from perfectly legitimate to highly questionable — but even the most scrupulous "upgrading" maneuver has the net effect of higher costs to the consumer. Two upgrading examples at opposite ends of the ethical gamut: There are reports that the 35-cent species of phonograph record will disappear, leaving the half-dollar version as the cheapest available to the hep-cats, and others; a rug manufacturer changed its popular rugs in the standard 9x12 size to 9x12 feet, 1 inch — hoping thereby to command a special price, 17 per cent higher than before, for this technically "non-standard-size" rug.

No more fairs

Nation's department store sales for the last four weeks are only four per cent ahead of same period of 1941, in dollar volume . . . a big Cleveland cafeteria says it can handle 30 per cent fewer patrons during the noon rush on account of having to have an employe dole out sugar by the spoonful . . . State fairs are a war-time casualty, what with transportation problems and farmers busy trying to raise record crops; many are being canceled . . . Maple sugar production was up 66 per cent this spring, on account of the sugar squeeze.

Jeeps to farms

An ultra-modern version of the "swords into plowshares" philosophy is the expected post-war conversion of the Army's versatile "Jeep" or quarter-ton reconnaissance car to farming tasks. The U. S. Department of Agriculture has been putting it through its paces in Georgia and Alabama, and Willys-Overland Motors, which builds the rough-and-ready buzz wagon, has received reports from practical farmers who've given it some workouts. Dr. Carl S. Mundy of Toledo used one in a variety of test jobs, including the complete soil treatment of 112 acres, and he reported a gasoline consumption of as low as a half-gallon per acre.

New coffee pot

A coffee-maker of the drip type in which hot water goes up via the handle instead of a center tube . . . A reverse periscope for cooking ranges, so a housewife can peek in on roasts and bakings without opening a stove door . . . A "shellacless" material suitable for making phonograph records . . . A special long-handled shovel for fighting incendiary bombs, with a supply of sand packed inside the handle and quickly releasable . . . A bristle-less paint brush, by Sherwin-Williams.

Auto sun bath

Six thousand brand new motor cars valued at $10,000,000 are now stored in garages, warehouses and available spaces in and around the nation's capital under the "freeze" order of the Price Administrator and cannot be disposed without the sanction of the rationing board. Only 300 of this total number were disposed from January to March. When warehouse space became unavailable, 1,000 of these cars were stored in an open field in Maryland, just outside the District of Columbia where they repose today devoid of all protection against weather.

Women

Enlistments in the Woman's Army Auxiliary Corps are voluntary. Applicants must be citizens between 21 and 44, between 5 and 6 feet in height, between 105 and 171 pounds in weight, married or single. Pay ranges from $21 to $30 for privates, $54 to $72 for non-coms and $125 to $166.67 plus allowances for officers. Uniforms will be olive drab and khaki with a special cap. They will drill and salute, carry no weapons, and serve for one year. Initial size of the contingent will be 25,000. High school education plus a qualifying intelligence test are required.

We 'file' ours

A report compiled by the Budget Bureau and submitted to the Congress on June 25, 1941 indicated that for the fiscal year 1941, a total of 34,513 persons in the government srevice were devoting full or part time to the business of information, publicity, and education, at a cost of $27,700,000. This huge force, scattered through the government agencies prepared and issued nearly 300,000,000 publications for the year of which 283,000,000 were not required by law. Because of the creation of a number of information agencies dealing with war, the number of persons so employed and the cost of informational and publicity services will be infinitely larger for the fiscal year 1942 and ensuing years.

Wiretapping

Several months ago the House, by a close vote, defeated a bill to permit the admissibility in federal courts of evidence obtained by federal agents, through tapping of telephones or telegraph wires. Last week another bill, limited to wartime crimes such as treason, sabotage, sedition, etc., and with a clause limiting its operation six months after peace is declared, passed the House by a unanimous vote. According to Congressman Reid, the bill that was defeated was most preferable. It would have been permanent legislation and would have applied to other felonies particularly extortion and kidnapping.

Safety razors

The WPB said a victory safety razor with a plastic handle, a zinc cap, and a zinc or plastic guard will go into production in a few months and will be offered to the public when the present supply is used up. The Board announced it invites specific inquiries from manufacturers to to how they may employ casein, a basic chemical made from skimmed milk, as a substitute product for scarce chemicals. Production of all musical instruments except violins, cellos and some guitars was halted. Piano manufacturers will turn out gliders, organ factories will make blowers for link gliders used in ground training of pilots, and factories which made French horns, trombones, trumpets, etc., will manufacture precision instruments for airplanes.

War Bonds

The Treasury said war bond sales from May 1 to May 29 totaled $615 million, while the quota for the month was $600 million. April sales were $536 million. The June quota is $800 million, and the goal will be raised to $1,000 million in July. The Treasury said 1,000,000 retailers throughout the country are being asked to sell war bonds and stamps equaling the value of four percent of total merchandise sales in July, or approximately $160 million worth.

"Headliners" arrive in Chicago for premiere Wednesday

Bert Lahr, Joe Everglades Lewis and Bert Wheeler arrive in Chicago Monday for the final hurdle-jumping of "Headliners of '42," which is to have its metropolitan premiere at the Grand Opera House on Wednesday evening, June 10. The tryout performances were given in Grand Rapids, Mich. over the week-end.

It should prove to be quite an event, marking the rebirth of two-a-day vaudeville in Chicago, a form of mixed entertainment that thrived across the land until 1932. There will be no motion pictures, no chorus and no night club trimmings — real "vodeville" and nothing else.

The program will be presented much the same as those celebrated shows at the New York Palace. It will be presented in two acts and the many attractions are to be seen in the true vaudeville tradition — acrobats, comedians, a dog act, music and continuous fun.

Other than the Messrs. Lahr, Lewis and Wheeler, the bill will include Romo Vincent, Hank Ladd, Frances Faye, Lynn, Royce and Vanya, The Biltmorettes, Francetta Malloy, Pegleg Bates and Paul Sydell and Spotty. Patty Orr, from Hollywood, is to appear with Wheeler along with Ladd and Miss Malloy.

Alfred Bloomingdale and Nat Karson are the producers with Karson responsible for the staging. David Mordecai, one of the last musical conductors at the N. Y. Palace, will wave the baton.

Matinees daily are announced, starting next Thursday. There will be an extra midnight performance on Saturdays and a dinner performance at 5:30 on Sundays. Popular prices of 55c to $1.10 will prevail at the matinees and from 55c to $2.20 at night.

Dog show at Rand park in Des Plaines June 14

Sunday, June 14, the Skokie valley kennel club is holding its fourth annual all-breed dog show at Rand Park in Des Plaines.

In addition to the regular children's handling classes an additional local feature has been added. A special American flag will be given as a prize to the best boy or girl handler from each of the West, North and Northwest Suburban townships. Also, a sun ray trophy will be awarded to one youth of the suburban town represented by the most entries.

One thousand entries are expected for the show. Time is 10 a. m. to 8:30 p. m. Admission is 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for children.

LIFE WITH MOTHER

Dear Eleanore:

Please bear with me — I'm in a sentimental mood! It dates from last week-end when Rob and the boys hung our flag from the high loft window in the barn. This large flag was a gift from one of Rob's clents to the boys and all of us have been longing to see it flying, particularly since our entrance into the war. What with Memorial Day coming this Saturday and Flag Week designated as the period between June 8th-14th, we decided to make a staff and show our beloved colors. I suggested we leave it on display for the duration and everyone agreed, but Rob reminded us that it must be taken down at sunset. So, picture us climbing extension ladders to the loft every night to bring the flag inside the barn. (Sometimes I think that man is too darn technical.)

Seeing that beautiful emblem flying in the breeze these last few days has brought to my mind, the many things for which it stands . . . all the things we truly love. I happened to tune in the radio the other evening just as a Negro male quartet began "My Country 'tis of Thee, Sweet Land of Liberty, Of Thee I Sing." Never have I heard anything anywhere that sounded so much like a prayer. They sang it quite slowly and with deep reverence. It set me to musing and I wondered if we haven't taken the blessings of this great land as just a matter of course. Maybe, we haven't quite appreciated what it really has meant to be called an American. Maybe, before this war is over, we will have a better understanding of the word Democracy. If we do, perhaps the sacrifices now being made, will not be considered too great.

Our list of friends in service is rapidly mounting. You know, of course, that cousin Ann is left at home with three small children, while Dick is in far off Trinidad. They haven't seen him for many months. Being a Naval officer in the Reserve, he was among the first men called into service. Think of what it means to them to have their lives so disrupted, yet Ann always appears to be cheerful and hopeful. She once said, "We're terribly proud of our Daddy. He's helping in the fight to preserve for us all the things we hold dear." Our mutual friend Frank Woods is a Major in the Reserve army and expects to be called any moment into the Medical Corps. Helen says she would like to go right along with Frank wherever he is sent, if it is at all feasible. Since, they have no dependents to claim her attention at home, she would like to do her part in some nursing capacity, wherever needed. Do you remember Harvey Hopp from Wilmette? He's been in the reserve ever since the last war, so he was called up long before Pearl Harbor and, he leaves a wife and two babies. Personally, my feelings are touched more by the sacrifice these men make who have families, than by those men who are younger. But, I suppose there is many a mother with unmarried sons in the service, who wouldn't whole heartedly agree with me. At any rate, it all makes me feel how little those of us like myself are giving. The purchase of some bonds and stamps . . . A few hours for Red Cross or Defense work . . . going without extra lumps of sugar . . . a little less coffee . . . walking more and riding less . . . infinitesimal in comparison, isn't it?

What CAN women like you and me do to help? What is to be OUR share? Perhaps the answer is to be found in the words of a wife and mother who lives in Chenango County, New York.

"My Credo"

I have a deep conviction, when I clean and sew and bake,
That in hands like my own lies the destiny of America.
While silver wings fly reassuringly and protectingly across the sky above,
We, with loving hearts and busy hands, guard and watch those beneath the roof of home,
I do not say that by hanging crisp, fresh curtains, I can stay
the hands of the enemy,
But I know that I can bring a feeling of bright serenity to those around me.
If I can bring order out of chaos in this small home, I will nurture a sense of well ordered living.

If I can plant seeds in the spring,
I can show by that small garden,
That God's great miracle of creation exceeds by far a war lord's lust for destruction.
If I can fill my children's lives with beauty and show them
bright sunsets,
And night skies filled with stars,
I shall prove to them daily
That an infinitely kind and loving Father still rules the world.
And if, in spite of all precautions that we take, I have to put the armor on that dear son,
I shall fasten it with the Bright buckles of courage and truth and love and I shall pray for strength for him and me,
For I still believe that in my folded hands lies the Distiny of America."

The last meeting of the Music Club for this season was held Wednesday. I took my new friend Gladys, and she fell in love with Highland Park as I had hoped she would. She is a Texan by birth and never did finish exclaiming about the gorgeous trees and green, green grass of that north shore suburb. The program was given in the home of one of the members and as we looked out over Lake Michigan, Gladys said: "How could you bear to leave after living along this lake all your life?" I had to admit I felt just a little tinge of homesickness.

We listened to the choral group give two Bach numbers, one with oboe accompaniment. This ensemble is coached and was directed by Helen Abbott Byfield, of whom it was once said: "She is Chicago's most intelligent singer." Dr. J. Lewis Browne, the organist and composer under whom I once had the privilege to study made that remark to me. And, he knew whereof he spoke for in his vast experience and world wide travel, he had met many singers of note. Under Mrs. Byfield's tutelage the women are singing beautifully and both Gladys and I enjoyed their offerings immensely.

We also heard Mr. DeWillow play his "concertina grande," as he chooses to call it. He made this instrument and has seven patents on it. He assured us most emphatically that it was the only one of its kind in the world. Its sound is exactly like an organ to me. So, you know how pleased I was to be present.

Gladys wanted to see the Ravinia Opera grounds, so we drove by, but the familiar brown gates are still closed. It won't be long now until they swing wide open to welcome the hundreds of lovers of music and, I wish I could be among them. Don't you?

Love to all,

Mary.

Dairymen have 'nothing to gain' in Lewis union

U. of I. prof. stresses lack of advantages

Dairymen of Illinois have now had their first official overtures from John L. Lewis and his United Mine Workers of America, but the odds are against the state's dairymen gaining anything from such an affiliation, in the opinion of Dr. R. W. Bartlett, associate chief in agricultural economics at the University of Illinois College of Agriculture.

The declining number of workers in the coal-mining industry, the shrinkage in the total payrolls of these workers and the fact that their average weekly earnings have been only a fraction better than those of factory workers help in answering the question of whether Illinois dairymen and dairy co-operatives should sign up as members of the United States Farmers' Division of the United Mine Workers of America, Dr. Bartlett said.

First official overtures for such a signup in Illinois were made to organized dairymen in Sangamon county, it is reported. Presumably other dairy groups and individual dairymen will be solicited as members of the organization in the near future.

"In the first place," Dr. Bartlett pointed out, "the facts show that in 1941 there were 136,000 fewer workers in the coal-mining industries in the United States than in 1929, a net reduction of 22.6 per cent.

"This decline stands out in sharp contrast to the 20 per cent increase during the same period in the number of factory workers employed. Part of the reduction in number of miners employed can be attributed to electrification of the mining industry. Another drop came as a result of leadership and strife within the industry, which seem to have encouraged substitution of machines in place of men."

"In the second place the facts show that coal-mine workers in the country received $1,900,000 less a week in 1941 than in 1929, or a net reduction of 12 per cent. This was in contrast to a 35 per cent increase during this same period in the average weekly payrolls of factory workers."

"Finally the facts show that even with the elimination of more than one-fifth of the coal miners, the average weekly earnings of each worker still employed averaged only 13 per cent higher in 1941 than in 1929 compared with a 12 per cent increase during this period in the average weekly earnings of each factory worker."

Dr. Barlett cited facts reported in February, 1942, issue of Illinois Farm Economics, published by the University of Illinois College of Agriculture, pertaining to conditions in the manufacturing, mining and other industries.

Here's a short cut to better poultry sires

There's a short cut to chick improvement. It's the selection of prospective breeding cockerels at broiler age — 8 to 12 weeks — instead of delaying selection until male birds have reached maturity.

H. H. Alp, extension poultry specialist of the University of Illinois College of Agriculture, points out that many hereditary defects apparent at 8 to 12 weeks become obscure with advancing age so that cockerels selected at 7 to 8 months may look very good, but sire less desirable chicks. On the other hand cockerels that have made rapid growth by broiler age show good sexual development and are plump and full-feathered. If appropriately marked and selected at breeding age, they should be good breeders and produce sturdy, fast-growing chicks.

Last year this type of cockerel selection worked so well when tried in one state that the U. S. Department of agriculture is encouraging poultry men in other states to try it.

Cockerels to select are those with reddened combs and wattles, a full set of feathers and sturdy, well-developed bodies, says Alp. Body formation can be judged by handling. Special emphasis should be placed on plumpness of breast. Each cockerel should be weighed and prospective breeders selected from those larger than the average of the group.

One thing to remember, however, is that at broiler age the cockerel has attained only about one-third of his growth, and that defects may still appear before he is mature. For this reason, it is advisable to save about three times as many cockerels as will be required so that only the very best need be kept when final selection is made at seven to eight months.

Sleeping sickness threatens horses unless vaccinated

Horses may be knocked out of their comeback as a wartime source of power unless they are immunized against sleeping sickness before the end of June, according to the animal pathology and hygiene department of the University of Illinois College of Agriculture.

The disease has been gradually increasing since the serious outbreak in 1938, when there were more than 6,000 cases in 85 counties of the state, the department reported. Outbreaks of the disease may appear in June and continue until a few days following the first heavy frost.

An improved intradermal vaccination is now available for protecting horses against the disease, it was announced. Two doses 7 to 10 days apart are necessary. Vaccination immunizes for the summer season. Since the disease is apparently spread by insects and no one is able to predict its prevalence, the safest course is to vaccinate all horses before the end of June. Healthy horses need not be withheld from work because of vaccination.

Immunizing horses against the disease is more economical and more satisfactory than treating them. However, in case horses are not immunized, they should be watched daily during the summer and the local veterinarian called promptly to administer antisleeping sickness serum if symptoms develop. In the early stages of the disease the serum is valuable, but is of little worth in advanced stages. Approximately 25 per cent of the horses that develop the disease die.

Order 'freezing' softwood soon to be felt on farms

The recent order freezing stocks of softwood lumber will soon be felt by Illinois farmers, because the major part of farm construction lumber used in the state is softwood brought in from the south or the northwest.

However, J. E. Davis, extension forester of the University of Illinois College of Agriculture and State Natural History Survey, believes that many Illinois farmers will find that they are not "hard hit" by the order if they will take full advantage of the possibilities of using native hardwood lumber for farm construction.

The War Production Board order froze all stocks of softwood construction lumber at the mill for a 60-day period beginning May 13, except lumber to meet needs of the army, navy, and maritime commission. The order also excepted sawmills producing less than 5,000 feet, board measure, per average day of eight hours of continuous operation during the 90 days preceding the issuance of the order. These small mills are still in a position to feed a limited amount of softwood lumber to the market, but their output can be expected to furnish only local supplies.

Stocks of softwood lumber now on hand in retail lumberyards are not affected by the order, and it does not in any way affect hardwood lumber.

The order has stressed the importance of repairing buildings which can be put into use this year for grain storage rather than new construction. Native hardwood can be adapted to serve all of the construction purposes served by softwood. Often native lumber can be sawed from the farm woodland, and supplies are available at local sawmills in almost every county in Illinois. In this connection, every farm adviser is being furnished a list of sawmills in his county and adjoining counties.

Davis believes the economy in using native hardwood lumber under the present building limitation should not be overlooked. New construction which can be done with the maximum allowance of $1,000 a farm often can be as much as doubled if home-grown lumber is used in place of softwood lumber. For some purpose native lumber is stronger and more durable, and thus smaller quantities may be required.

RIBOFLAVIN IMPORTANT FOR PRODUCTION OF HATCHING EGGS

"Riboflavin is a greenish orange colored vitamin present in eggs, milk, liver, dried grasses and dried alfalfa," says Dr. H. J. Smith, Director of Research for Purina Mills. "It puts the hatching spark, the 'will to live', into fertile eggs. When breeding hens do not get enough Vitamin G their eggs hatch poorly. Those chicks that do get out of the shell are weak.

"It is well to note that when baby chicks are given a ration low in Vitamin G they grow slowly. If their feed is entirely lacking in Vitamin G they get a crow-headed appearance," Dr. Smith says. "Certain forms of paralysis are claimed to be caused by a lack of this Riboflavin substance. Some chicks develop 'notched' beaks, which the California Experiment station has found to be caused by insufficient Vitamin G.

A Powerful Element

"So potent is this Riboflavin that its presence in various sources is infinitesmal," says Dr. Smith. "It can only be measured in millionths of a gram. Nevertheless the least insufficiency of Vitamin G definitely limits hatchability and restricts chick life and growth.

"The available sources of Riboflavin—such as dried milk, dried alfalfa and dried yeast—have long been studied. Investigations show that these ingredients sometimes contain large amounts of Vitamin G, and other times they contain very little.

"These observations, together with the knowledge that the slightest deficiency of Vitamin G has so marked an effect upon egg hatchability and chick livability, have caused research scientists to find a way to insure the presence of ample Vitamin G in poultry mashes. The outcome has been the development of a new special Vitamin G (flavin) ingredient, known as Puri-Flave. It is made by special bacteria under hygenic laboratory conditions, and has proven very helpful to us in insuring the Vitamin G content of our rations."

PICNICS FOR MORALE

There is one special way that every homemaker can give her family new courage, new cheer and a fine sane balance which will carry them through the stress and strain of these times. Can you all guess what I'm thinking of? Yes. Arrange just as many family outings as you can—occasions when all the members of the family can enjoy the outdoors—revelling in the peace which pervades our hearts when we contemplate the beauties of nature. They help everyone to forget the daily pressure and achieve a little refreshment of spirit.

The food can be very simple. Just some hamburgers or steak patties in buns—with a few crisp relishes—and fruit—and cake. A luscious cake will make up for many lacks.

Just One Hot Dish

A group of us went on that kind of an easy walk-to-the-picnic party the other evening—and it was so easy to manage, and so much fun, we decided we'd do it often. We had just one hot dish—a casserole of macaroni and cheese made with plenty of cream sauce and slices of wieners or frankfurters mixed in with the macaroni and cheese. That's so tasty, and has such an appetizing aroma, that it makes you feel you'd had a campfire and campfire food. Yet it was simple to carry. Just slip a cover over your hot casserole—tie a dish towel up around it—and carry it by the knot in the towel. Then let somebody else carry the basket and the paper plates, the forks, spoons and cups and the bottle of milk, and the thermos of coffee—and someone else carry a box of sandwiches and fruit, and then another the pan of cake—and there's your entire meal—going right with you, as you walk along enjoying the beauties of the fresh green shrubs, and trees, and the lovely flowers, and the beautiful blue sky.

The Children Will Love It

The children will love this kind of a picnic, because they can all help. It gives them a feeling of being an important part of the arrangements. And every child likes that. After they've eaten their hot dish, and some delicious salad sandwiches with it—some such filling as chopped celery and nuts and ground carrots, moistened with salad dressing—after they have had that, they'll be thrilled when you open the cake. Especially if it is one of the luscious chocolate or devils food cakes that are always favorites. So I will tell you about the devils food with choc-o-nut icing.

Judging from reports on the sugar situation I figure that any family of 6 or 8 or more has plenty of sugar to make at least one grand cake a week. Even the smaller families should have enough sugar for this cake because it doesn't require any sugar for the icing. Or they can make just ½ of the recipe---

DEVILS FOOD CAKE WITH CHOC-O-NUT ICING

Mix ½ cup cold water with ½ cup cocoa (to make a smooth paste). Let stand.
Cream ⅔ cup shortening with 1¾ cups sugar.
Blend in 2 large eggs and 2 egg yolks.
Then mix in the cocoa paste.
Stir in 2¼ cups SIFTED all purpose flour sifted with 1 tsp. soda and ½ tsp. salt.
Stir in alternately with ¾ cup sour milk or buttermilk.

Pour just ½ of this batter into an 8x12 inch pan (which has been greased and lined with paper).

Over this first half of the batter we spread some of the Choc-o-nut Icing. Here it is—

Choc-o-nut Icing

Mix together
6 tbsp. water
2 cups moist shredded coconut
1 square chocolate plus 2 oz. sweet baking chocolate, melted.

Spread ½ this icing over ½ the batter—and add the rest of the cake batter.

Bake 45 minutes—in a moderate oven, 350° F.

The minute you take the cake from the oven, spread it with the remaining delicious Choc-o-nut Mixture. Then take it just like that—fresh and warm to your outdoor picnic dinner.

Aliens may secure citizenship through service in army

Aliens found acceptable to the Army may secure United States citizenship after three months military service provided their records are good, Col. Paul G. Armstrong, State Director of Selective Service announced this week. This opportunity applies whether or not a man has previously applied for his "first papers."

"If an alien is accepted by the Army for military service," commented Colonel Armstrong, "such action is virtually a guarantee that the alien can procure American citizenship after ninety days service if he has a good record during that period of service.

"Any inducted alien who desires to become an American citizen should convey his desire to his commanding officer as soon as possible after induction. This advice is given because it takes some time to procure the necessary certificate of entry from the immigration officials, and delay can be avoided later on by starting the citizenship action immediately after entering the service.

"The new regulations on citizenship papers now open the way for alien medical doctors to procure commissions in the army. Such men should volunteer for induction through their respective selective service boards. After three months, the doctor will go through the citizenship process and can then apply for a commission in the Medical Corps."

Six ways given of making cakes minus some sugar

The family may now "have its cake and eat it too," thanks to six recipes featuring sugar substitutes recommended by Miss Sara Moyer, instructor in home economics, University of Illinois College of Agriculture.

Corn Sirup Cake

Either dark or light corn sirup may be used. The recipe calls for 3 cups flour, five-eighths cup or 10 tablespoons milk, ½ cup fat, 1½ cups sirup, 3 eggs, 3 teaspoons baking powder, 2 teaspoons vanilla and 1 teaspoon salt.

Sugar and Corn Sirup

Use 3 cups flour, 13 tablespoons milk, ½ cup fat, ¾ cup sugar, ¾ cup corn sirup, 3 eggs, 3 teaspoons baking powder, 1½ teaspoons vanilla and ¾ teaspoon salt.

Corn sirup is about one-half as sweet as sugar, so cakes made with it will not be as sweet as those made with sugar. Cakes made with all corn sirup will be less sweet than those with one-half sugar and one-half sirup. All-sirup cakes are more compact, less velvety, and darker in interior color than are cakes made with one-half sirup and one-half sugar.

Sorghum Cake

Use 3 cups flour, 10 tablespoons milk, ½ cup fat, 1½ cups sorghum, 3 eggs, ¾ teaspoon soda and ¾ teaspoon salt.

Sorghum gives a grayish-brown color to the crumb of the cake. The use of one-half sugar and one-half sorghum produces a very light, velvety product with a milk gingerbread flavor.

Sugar and Sorghum

The half-and-half recipe calls for 3 cups flour, 13 tablespoons milk, ½ cup fat, ¾ cup sugar, ¾ cup sorghum, 3 eggs, 1½ teaspoon baking powder, ⅜ teaspoon soda, ¾ teaspoon salt. To either of these recipes, spices may be added in the proportion of ¼ teaspoon cinnamon, 1-8 teaspoon cloves and 1-8 teaspoon nutmeg for each cup of flour.

Molasses Cake

Molasses cakes are golden-brown in flavor and taste much like gingerbread. The standard recipe requires 3 cups flour, 10 tablespoons milk, ½ cup fat, 1½ cups molasses, 3 eggs, ¾ teaspoon soda and ¾ teaspoon salt.

Sorghum and molasses batters curdle noticeably, especially when egg is added. However, the curdling usually disappears by the time the last portion of flour has been added, and it does not seem to affect the quality of the cake.

Sugar and Molasses

A half-and-half proportion of sugar and molasses gives a light, velvety cake. The recipe calls for 3 cups flour, 13 tablespoons milk, ½ cup fat, ¾ cup sugar, ¾ cup molasses, 3 eggs, 1½ teaspoons baking powder, ⅜ teaspoon soda and ¾ teaspoon salt.

Sorghum and molasses batters curdle noticeably, especially when egg is added. However, the curdling usually disappears by the time the last portion of flour has been added, and it does not seem to affect the quality of the cake.

Conventional Method

All the recipes are mixed according to the usual method for making cakes. The fat is creamed with the flavoring. Then the sirup is added in portions with the mixture and creamed well after each addition. Then the eggs are added, one at a time, followed by a thorough beating after each addition. Sifted dry ingredients and the liquid are added alternately, the dry ingredients in thirds and the liquids in halves. Mix the batter until smooth after each addition. These cakes require more mixing than all-sugar cakes. Bake them at 375 degrees Fahrenheit for 30 to 35 minutes or until a toothpick comes out clean when inserted into the center of the cake.

MANY PULLETS "GO COASTING"!—THEIR RIDE ALWAYS DOWNHILL ONE

"Not all 'coasting' is done in winter", warns J. H. McAdams, poultry specialist with Purina Mills. "In summer many, many poultry raisers allow their young pullets to 'go coasting'—and these pullets' ride is always a downhill one.

"What usually happens is this," says McAdams. "Baby chicks cost good hard-earned money, so the first few weeks most poultry raisers give their chicks the very best in starting feeds. But as the chicks get larger and eat more, the tendency is to stop feeding mash altogether, or to feed a poorer one. Both practices are costly," McAdams claims, "for downhill go their young pullets, and with them go their fall chances for eggs when prices are highest.

"What they should do", recommends McAdams, "is change from the very best in starting mashes to the very best in growing mashes, when chicks have eaten two pounds of starting mash each. And he claims this recommendation is not over expensive for the cost per hundred for growing mash is usually less than for starting mash.

Where the poultry raiser grows no grain, McAdams recommends feeding a nationally recognized all-mash growing ration. If the poultry raiser grows a limited amount of grain, he should feed a nationally recognized growing mash that is meant to be fed with farm raised scratch grain. If he grows a lot of grain, he should have it ground and mixed according to one of several formulas, depending on the grain he has:

200 pounds ground corn
100 pounds Purina Chowder
PG 17-02
100 pounds ground corn
100 pounds finely ground oats
100 pounds Purina Chowder
PG 17-22
150 pounds coarsely ground wheat
100 pounds finely ground barley
100 pounds Purina Chowder
PG 17-24
500 pounds ground sorghum grains
200 pounds Purina Chowder

AAA check-up begins soon

The check-up committeemen will make starting this month will show the extent to which farmers have fulfilled their pledges to produce "food for freedom." These pledges originally were made last fall and renewed after Pearl Harbor.

Reporters will check on the farmers' compliance with corn allotments and soil conservation requirements of the AAA program, according to Carl M. Bormet, Cook County AAA chairman.

Farmers were encouraged to plant within corn allotments this year to make room for soybeans and other war crops. The soil conserving requirements is that at least 20 per cent of farm's total cropland be seeded to soil conserving grasses and legumes.

"Unless they conserve the soil, farmers won't be able to maintain production throughout a long war," said Mr. Bormet. "We aren't running the danger of being unable to provide for the food needs of the nation, because of wornout land."

June 16 last day to enter PMA neat farm contest

Which Pure Milk Association farm in District 10 will win $75 in War Bonds, for first place in the Association's 9th annual Neatest Dairy Farm Contest, PMA folks are wondering as the entry deadline approaches. Entries will be accepted until Tuesday, June 16.

While shortage of help handicaps many farmers this year, those who are able to enter the Neat Farm Contest have the special satisfaction of competing for prizes of much higher value than any offered in previous years. First prize in each of the Association's 15 Districts is $75 (maturity value) in War Bonds; second prize in each District is a $50 War Bond; and third prize a $25 War Bond. Final judging prizes total $350 in War Bonds.

Cyclotron Treatment for Sarcoma
Radio-active elements developed in the University of California at Berkley are being used in experimental treatment of a giant-celled sarcoma on the leg of a patient. Substances made radio-active by bombardment with "deutrons," or "atomic bullets," are introduced into the blood stream. Here they focus on infected tissues with much the same effect of X-rays, but, because their effectiveness is limited to a short time, without the possible dangers.

Veterans plus new material wins pennant

The election of Jim Millay to the captaincy of the Arlington baseball team marked the conclusion of a great season for the Cardinals. Scrappy little Jim was the live-wire type of ball player whose presence in the line-up was always a spur to better play. Versatile and consistent, he played shortstop last year, second base this year, and batted exactly .333 each year. His election was the high point of his three years of prominence in sports at Arlington Heights.

The Cardinals were a good bet from the opening day of the season to take down the 1942 pennant. With two veteran catchers, Harting and Winkelmann, and a pitcher, Crawford, who had lost only one game in 1941, they were in an excellent position. Two first basemen, a third baseman and a shortstop were available. Of these, Johnson operated at third base throughout the season, Millay moved to second base as sophomore, Bill Griffith moved into the lineup at short, and Kleiner shared the first base spot with Feritag, a freshman. Kost, the other first base veteran, had to give up baseball after the season began because of conflict with a job.

The Cardinal outfield had a letterman in Decker to begin the season. Hodges and McWharter came up from the 1941 freshman-sophomore ranks, while Anstedt and Becker, seniors, crashed the lineup for the first time.

A junior, Peeters, added greatly to the Cardinal infield strength as he played three positions competently and hit well. Bokelmann became the second pitcher on the staff. He and Crawford were backed up by Peeters and Kleiner on the mound, which gave the Cardinals plenty of pitching strength for a much more strenuous schedule than they were able to play.

Griffith Leads Hitters

Statistics show that Bill Griffith led Arlington's hitters with an average of .474. Winkelmann, a big, competent catcher, was next with .389 and Hodges, an outfielder, was third with .360. Millay and McWharter tied for the fourth spot with .333. McWharter led the team in runs batted-in with 9, closely followed by Peeters with 8.

Even more important than the averages was the fact that much of the Cardinal hitting was most timely. In two consecutive games McWharter singled to drive in two vital runs with each hit. Harting, Griffith, Johnson, Winkelmann and others came through repeatedly in similar fashion.

Jim Crawford was undoubtedly the top pitcher of the league, although closely pressed by Al Bratzke of Warren, for effectiveness. He pitched seven full games, never needing relief in any game, and winning 6 of his starts. He struck out 70 for an average of 10 per game and allowed 29 hits for an average of 4 per game. His earned run average was two per game and he gave the same number of walks. His excellent control was shown by a string of 25 innings pitched late in the season without issuing a pass. Bokelmann and Kleiner pitched the remaining varsity games for Arlington in highly competent fashion.

Lose One Game

Arlington lost only one game all season, and that to Niles by a 4-1 score. In an earlier encounter the Cards won 11-2. Niles lost no other games, but failed to appear for a scheduled game at Warren. Whether the game was forfeited or not is undecided, but in any event the percentage system of figuring standings officially used in the N. E. conference, leaves Arlington securely in first place.

Cardinal youngsters did almost as well as the varsity. Early in the season the freshmen and sophomores lost to Evanston frosh-soph team, but they tied the same outfit late in May 3-3 in a game halted by rain. They beat Barrington's reserves 17-5 at Barrington. Jim Robinson, a freshman, pitched the last two of those games. Henry Ehard and George Gaare did the catching in all three.

Wolfarth, Mgr., L. Hodges, H. Becker, M. Harting, R. Bokelman, F. Berg, Mgr. Third row, J. Crawford, W. Kleiner, D. Winkelmann, T. Decker, R. Hayes, coach. Absent, L. Johnson, D. Peeters.

Niles wins frosh-soph meet by one point

Table of Points

Niles	45
Libertyville	44
Leyden	26½
Palatine	22½
Barrington	17½
Lake Forest	15
Bensenville	12½
Arlington Heights	12

Niles nosed out Libertyville by a one point margin to win the second annual Northeast-Northwest Frosh-Soph meet. The young Trojans scored in every event except the low hurdles, but took only one first place. Leyden showed expected strength to win third place with 26½ points while Palatine the Northwest leader the past two years was fourth with 22½.

Schaffer of Libertyville was the individual star of the meet with first places in all three of his events, the shot, discus, and high jump. He set meet records in the high jump and discus. Muehlfelt of Palatine was second high for individual honors with firsts in both the dash events. His :25.1 tied the 220 mark but was the poorest time he had made in the event for the past month. Being only a freshman he will have another crack at the records next year.

Besides Schaffer's records of 116 in the discus and five feet seven in the high jump, Libertyville broke the Frosh relay mark with :50.1, and Johnston of Niles broke the 880 record with a brilliant 2:11.

The broad jump was a very good event for frosh-sophs with three boys exceeding 19 feet and with Anderson of Bensenville the winner.

Schwinn of Barrington scored 11 points with a victory in the high hurdles and second in the lows and fourth in the broad jump.

The meet marks were exceptional considering the weather. A thick mist covered the field during the early part of the meet and it later turned into a cold rain which cut the running marks considerably.

The meet was sponsored by the athletic departments of Arlington and Palatine directed by Jack Grose and Gerald McElroy. Ribbons were awarded for five places in every event on the program.

Bob Busse plays for Wildcats

Bob Busse, who starred on the championship baseball teams at Arlington Heights high school in 1939 and 1940, is continuing his excellent work on the varsity team at Northwestern University, according to word from the athletic department there.

"He won his letter as a pitcher on the team this year, and toward the end of the season developed into one of the best pitchers on the team. His work during the year was mostly in a relief capacity and coach Maury Kent regards him as a fine prospect for next year." Busse was the winning pitcher in one of the two conference games with Minnesota this spring.

Busse will be remembered for his share in the great record of the Arlington Heights teams of 1939 and 1940. In his senior year he allowed only five earned runs in seven games and limited the opponents to thirty hits. Bob Bruhnke, now of the U. S. Navy shared the mound duties with him.

Red Wings to play Benda Coals this Sunday

After being rained out last Sunday, the Red Wings will resume their baseball schedule this Sunday, against the powerful Benda Coals, formerly the Berwyn Boosters.

Come out and see a real ball game at the Arlington field house. Game starts at 3 p. m. sharp. Batteries—Schaeffer and Schiewe.

McElroy gives track awards at Palatine

Coach McElroy awarded 16 major and seven minor letters to members of the Palatine track squad at the annual awards assembly last Friday morning. Major awards were won by seven seniors, six juniors, one sophomore and two freshmen. Five sophomores and two freshmen won minor letters.

Palatine had a track team and not a squad carried along by a few stars. This is shown by the fact that they annexed their second straight conference championship by scoring in every event yet getting but three first places. Further evidence of team strength is the winning of their second straight Palatine relays title with all but four points scored in relays. The Pirates scored dual victories over Antioch, Arlington and Bensenville and twice defeated Barrington. The Frosh soph team beat Arlington, Barrington, and Bensenville and lost to Leyden.

Harold Schwolow, senior sprinter, was high scorer for the season with 87 points followed by Guenther, junior hurdler, with 78, and Howes, junior weight man, with 71. Warder and Timmerhaus, seniors in the 440 and mile, and two of the most conscientious workers on the squad were fourth and fifth in scoring with marks over 50 points. Other letter men are Field, senior 880 runner; Anderson, junior 880 and pole vault; Jones, junior hurdler; C. Vogt, freshman, mile; Muehlfelt, freshman in sprints; Gallimore, senior broad jump and shot; Dinse, junior hurdle and broad jump; M. Vogt, sophomore pole vault and high jump; Langhoff, senior miler; Cipri, senior 440; and Cramer, high hurdles. Minor letters were won by Plumhoff and Douglas freshmen; and Weseman, Goodwin, Lohse, Machnik, Herr, sophomores, Lohse, hurdler, broad pre-season predictions. Next year's minor winners with 41 frosh-soph points. Muehlfelt scored 66 points in frosh-soph meets but also got 36 in varsity competition for the best all round freshman track record established thus far at Palatine. Muehlfelt won both the 100 and the 220 in the inter conference frosh-soph meet.

According to their coach the Palatine squad this year had the best spirit and showed the most interest of any track group he had coached. Practically all the Palatine boys worked hard and trained well. Only four or five were letter winners before this season and they were given little chance of being a winner in the pr-seaso predictions. Next year's prospects look much brighter.

Glanz Dierking first to file as entries pour in

Bensenville rates as No. 1 golf community

Exactly as it should be, Glanz Dierking, Bensenville's sharp-shooting amateur, was the first contestant to file his entry for the Paddock Publications' 2nd Annual Golf Tournament to be staged on consecutive Sundays, June 21 and 28, at Mohawk daily fee club in Bensenville. Dierking is the meet's defending low gross champion, having captured the coveted title last July at Mohawk with two superb 79-75 rounds for a 153 total good golf in any amateur tournament.

Despite the fact that the Paddock Publications "Amateur" was officially announced only last week, already a record number of first-week entries have been received. Fourteen locals have asked that they be given starting times. 12 of them are from Bensenville, virtually a hotbed for good golfers, and two from Itasca. The early entry blanks include Glanz Dierking, Lawrence and Robert Geils, Nick and George Kouzmanoff, Carl Litts, Delbert Kolze, John Kirby, Robert Linderman, Jordan Spiroff, Eugene Gutnick and R. Steging, all of Bensenville, and Joseph B. of Itasca.

Steging was the 1941 first 18 medalist with a 77.

First Threesome At 11 a. m.

Play will be over 36 holes, 18 on each Sunday. All starting times will be between 11 a. m. and 1 p. m. and pairings will be in threesomes. The contestant must be an amateur and a resident of a community or district served by the Paddock Publications. The entry fee of $2.00 includes green fees and locker room accommodations for the entire meet. Entries will be accepted until Monday, June 15. Pairings will be announced in the June 18 and 19 editions of the six Paddock Publications — Arlington Heights Herald, Cook County Herald, Mt. Prospect Herald, Palatine Enterprise, Du Page County Register prise, DuPage County Register and and Roselle Register.

In keeping with the policies of the administration to conserve tires and fuel, players wishing to travel together will be given convenient starting times. However, the request must be made at the time of entry.

Six Prizes This Year

The tournament committee wishes to announce two more prizes will be awarded in addition to the four given last year. Two huge silver plated loving cups will be emblematic of low gross and low net. Second lows will be given sterling silver medals. Similar design bronze medals have been added for 3rd place winners. The medals have red, white and blue ribbons for fob wear. All of the prizes will be appropriately engraved.

An established handicap is not necessary in order to compete. The Chicago District Golf Association handicap system, innovated by Tom G. McMahon, president of the CDGA, will be used. This method of determining a player's handicap for a short tournament has no equal for fairness.

Mail or deliver the entry blank which appears on this page immediately to the Amateur Golf Tournament chairman, Paddock Publications, Arlington Heights, Illinois.

Competition keen in Des Plaines golf league

The Des Plaines Motor Sales quartet of the Rob Roy twilight league and the M. S. Taube squad of the Industrial Golf Leagues of America are just about the hottest teams in amateur golf. Although, John Alonge's sharp-shooters trail Northwest Beverage in the Des Plaines loop by a half of a point, yet they are the toughest four in their league, being the low handicap squad. With Bill Teichert, 1941 Paddock Publications' low net champion, showing the way with a flashy 36, the Motors fired a 154 for their 9-hole play last Thursday. Alonge came through with a 38, Frank DeFalco and Frank Foote tied with a pair of 40's.

SHORT PUTTS

— by —

Tommy Kouzmanoff

"SHORT PUTTS" always welcomes news and facts . . . particularly the encouraging type . . . on golf and golf equipment. In an interview with Ben Riley, Old Orchard's youthful but veteran professional, this departmtnt was able to garner more information . . . and coming from an experienced pro it is definitely authentic . . . on the above subjects than from a dozen newspaper articles and conversations. "All rubber," started the lanky tutor, "for other than war purposes has been frozen. However, this does not mean that there will be no more golf balls. "New" balls, reprocessed, are under production and will be ready for the market by the middle of June. The covers on these balls will have no rubber whatsoever. A scientifically constructed cover that has already proven to be 95 per cent efficient, processed over the old rubber center which you turned in, will be your new ball. Gene Sarazen proved in accurate tests that the loss of distance in the reprocessed balls is so slight that the average golfer's game will not suffer insofar as distance is concerned. The dangers that may set in are that "fly-by-night" manufacturers will try to stamp 85 cent names on reprocessed balls that have cheaper centers. They may even fail to mention that the ball is a reprocessed one. Reliable golf ball makers are carefully sorting the traded-in balls as to quality befor applying covers as well as stamping every ball "reprocessed." As for golf clubs, there are none being manufactured for the duration but there are still plenty on the market. Putting it briefly, the golf ball will not be a problem, at least for 1942." Thank you, Mr. Riley. We feel much encouraged. Now, we can swing naturally once again instead of trying to steer 'em.

Bundles units plan 'Arlington Whirl'

Plans for one of Chicago's largest and most colorful dances, to be staged by and for the benefit of Bundles for America, were announced this week by Mrs. Edwin C. Lennox, chairman of the dance committee.

Called the "Arlington Whirl," the benefit dance will be a project of the sixty-four units in the Chicagoland area. It will be held in the club house of the Arlington Park Jockey club on Saturday evening, June 27, shortly after the day's races. Dancing will get underway at 6:30 p. m. and will last until 12 o'clock. Music will be furnished by Bob Chester and his orchestra.

Committee members for the dance committee include Mrs. Geo. Hartford, 100 Drury Lane, Arlington Heights.

The six handsome draft horses owned by the Arlington Jockey Club will be in the Victory parade in Chicago Sunday. They will be driven by Chris Schoenbeck and John Haemker.

Basic training course for civilian defense workers

Arrangements for the final class in the basic training courses for civilian defense workers were announced this week. The five hour general course will begin at the high school auditorium on Wednesday, June 17, at 7:30. It will be completed the following week with meetings on Wednesday and Friday.

All civilian defense workers and staff officers must take the general course. Many in Arlington Heights already have part of their five hours completed through attendance at the moving pictures shown at the high school auditorium on Thursday, May 28, and attendance earlier at the St. Mary's Training school lecture. These workers will need to attend only the first meeting on Wednesday, June 17, to complete their course.

The course will be given by Mr. Harrison Kincaid, member of the faculty of Crane Technical high school in Chicago. Movies and slides will be a part of the material given.

Water mains for factory awaits engineer figures

Committee opposes use of municipal funds for projects

A citizens committee of twelve met with members of the village board Monday night to consider requests from Creamery Package Co. and E. W. A. Rowles Co. for six inch water main extensions to their properties to meet demands of insurance companies.

Without definite engineer figures the committee could make no recommendation to the village board. An adjournment was taken until such time as the estimate is available.

A number of the committee members expressed themselves as opposed to use of municipal funds. They point to the $17,000 paved road to Creamery Package as evidence that Arlington Heights, as a municipality, is appreciative of the employment that is provided by that company.

Members of the citizens committee present Monday evening were: J. D. Flentie, P. J. Mors, John Allen, Paul C. Taege, Walter Krause, Jr., E. H. Malzahn, Wm. F. Meyer, Jr., Carl Ewert, Geo. F. Meyer, H. F. Muller, Alex Lips, R. H. Jahn.

Mayor Goedke presided and aldermen Adam, Rizzi and Franke were also in attendance.

Two fire calls

Tuesday noon the firemen were called to 306 West Euclid where smoke had blown open a furnace door and filled the house with smoke.

Saturday at 8:30 a phone call brought the firemen to North Dunton where the ignition on the car of Victor Reed had started a fire, which was extinguished before the arrival of the fire company.

Swimming pool opens June 23

With the Arlington swimming pool receiving its final coat of white paint, plans are going forward rapidly in preparation for the opening day, June 23.

Life guards and attendants are being appointed, the season tickets are already showing their popularity with the people of Arlington Heights, and last, but not least the chemicals so essential in keeping the pool water healthful have been purchased.

A special effort is going to be made this summer to increase the number of swimmers in the village. Free swimming classes will be held at least twice a week for boys and girls. Adult classes will be formed if there is a demand for such instruction.

Be ready to buy your season ticket when called upon by a member of the Recreation Commission or one of their helpers.

Draft board speeds medical examinations

Ceremonial to be regular feature of all inductions

Stories of accelerated war efforts throughout the country are being reflected in Arlington Heights, where the quarters of Selective Service Board No. 1 has become a very busy place. An average of seventy-five men are being given physical examinations there each week. Dr. Larson, of Wheeling and Dr. Carr, Arlington Heights, have been added to the physicians who are members of the medical board.

Twenty-three men left the induction center Monday with a farewell send off similar to that given the boys a week earlier. Rev. Kamphenkel, pastor of St. John's church, represented the ministry, while the Legion, V.F.W. and auxiliaries had a part with the drum and bugle corps.

Interest is being shown by other organizations in subsequent inductions and the send-offs will grow in proportions. "It is a lot different than at the last war when we left in box cars," were the words of one ex-service man.

The board is appreciative of the volunteer typing services that are being offered. "There is a lot of work to be done by typists and offers of girls and women who are experienced in that line helps a lot," says Frank Smith, secretary.

One Mt. Prospect woman is paying a high school girl to spend two half days a week at the selective service headquarters. In order that there will be a machine for each volunteer typist, those who are offering to help are asked to phone headquarters.

The speedup of medical examinations has become necessary on account of the increased size of the draft calls. A call for upwards of a hundred from this district at one time can be expected before the end of the year. All communities are being called upon to do their share to make possible Uncle Sam's expanding army.

Defense dance nets $500

The committee of the Elk Grove Township Civilian Defense Dance, held their first meeting Tuesday, June 9th, it was the first meeting since the dance, at that time Treasurer John W. Pohlmann reported that a total ticket sales and contributions amounted to $739.41, expenses $227.55, profit $511.86.

Arlington bond pledges $350,340

Local sales only half of pledge total

U. S. Treasury department is expecting the people of Arlington Heights to exceed their pledges in the purchase of stamps and war bonds. Otherwise this community will be laying down on the job of providing its share of money for waging the war to a successful conclusion. The pledges obtained are about $36,000 a month. The May quota was $53,000 and the quota for subsequent months is $69,000.

Minute men called on 2,200 individuals during the recent drive. A little over ten percent stated that they were not financially able to purchase stamps or bonds. A total of 64 citizens of Arlington Heights were unsympathetic. No further pledges are being taken by the local committee, but reports are received each month from Washington, giving the total amount of bonds purchased by persons who at time of purchase gave Arlington Heights as their postoffice.

Many people are purchasing bonds thru payroll deductions, receiving them by registered mail. Such purchases will be credited to any pledge they made at home. However, records of local sales, at the postoffice and at the Arlington Heights National Bank are not commensurate with the pledges that have been made.

"Let Arlington Heights people make good on their war savings bond pledges," is the call that has gone out from the local War Savings staff.

No separate record is being kept at postoffices of war savings stamps that are sold as sooner or later those stamps are turned in on purchases of bonds. Actual sales of bonds at the local postoffice is in the neighborhood of $6,500 a year (cash value) while the sale of bonds at the Arlington Heights National Bank is over $10,000 a month. Tuesday the sales amounted to $4,000 at the bank.

The War Savings staff, in accordance with its promise to issue a public report of the result of the pledge drive has released the following figures:

Number of people who signed pledge form	1874
Number of people who refused to sign pledge form:
a. Financialy unable	257
b. Unsympathetic	64
	321
Total dollar amount pledge	$350,340.61
Number of Workers:
a. Captains	29
b. Workers
Minute Men	200

Lions club re-elects Ewert as president

A novel smoker is on the boards for the next meeting, which will take place at Simson's. The committee promises a great evening with something unusual in entertainment. Rumor has it that—(it's a secret, boys).

The club recently purchased a $100 defense bond and contributed $100 towards civilian defense fund.

Dr. George Fowler to speak Sunday at Methodist church

Dr. George A. Fowler, district superintendent of Chicago Northern District will be the speaker at the Methodist church in Arlington Sunday morning and later will preside at the Fourth Quarterly conference and congregational meeting of the church.

Dr. Fowler is in constant demand in the conference as a speaker, and before entering Rock River Conference made a noted record for himself in Syracuse, New York in social reform work. Before becoming District Superintendent last fall he was pastor of the First Church in Oak Park. Fowler is well known as a book reviewer of note and his daughter Grace is an accomplished singer.

Following the morning service the congregation will meet in the church dining room for a basket dinner, picnic fashion, and the conference and congregational meeting will follow the dinner.

All members and friends of the church are urged to attend this interesting day.

Great patriotic event in Arlington July 4th

Tickets go fast for 10th district victory dance

With advance ticket sales far exceeding expectations and interest running high in the contest to select "Miss Victory" for Tenth division, office of Civilian Defense, benefit "Victory Dance" at St. Mary's Training school auditorium, Des Plaines, Saturday evening, June 20, the OCD committee announced several other features which will augment the headline attraction of Phil Levant and his famed radio and recording orchestra.

War bonds have been included in the "Victory" theme of the dance and three door prizes—a $100 war bond, a $50 bond and a $25 bond will be offered. Each ticket carries a coupon which entitles the purchaser to a chance on the bonds and the committee has ruled that the holders of the winning stubs will not be required to be present at the dance to be a winner.

Purchasers of "Victory Dance" tickets found two stubs attached to the ticket. One entitles the holder to a vote on the "Miss Victory" contest and the other stub is a chance or entry in the "War Bond" prize drawings. The tickets, red, white and blue in color, sell for $1.10 per couple and the entire proceeds of the dance will go toward the establishing and maintaining of the 10th Division's headquarters and communication center in the Des Plaines city hall.

Barbara Fuller, glamour girl of radioland, has accepted an invitation to attend the "Victory Dance" and present the trophy to the "Miss Victory" contest winner.

Distribution of tickets to OCD co-ordinators, air raid wardens, and other workers in the Tenth division is being carried out by Mrs. D. A. Grant of Arlington Heights, as ticket chairman, in collaboration with Chief of Police Howard Becker of Des Plaines, who is handling the sponsor's tickets. Persons wishing to purchase tickets may do so at this newspaper office, from Civilian Defense officials, or through their local OCD headquarters.

Phil Levant, famed radio and dance band leader, plans many musical innovations for the "Victory Dance." Among them will be the playing of the new "Let's Dance To Victory" tune written by Joe Rines, musical director of the Blue radio network.

Mr. A. R. Vente, Chicago director of the Arthur Murray dance studios, shortly before press time today confirmed that Arthur Murray dancers will introduce the new "Victory Dance" for the first time in the middle west at 10th division OCBD "Victory Ball" at St. Mary's Training school auditorium, Saturday evening June 20, at 11 p. m. The new "Victory Dance" step was conceived by Arthur Murray, famous dance instructor, in collaboration with Joe Rines, Blue radio network musical conductor, who provided the music, "Let's Dance To Victory." The new dance was demonstrated for the first time at the Stage Door Canteen, off Times Square in New York City, last week and the proceedings broadcast coast-to-coast. Mr. Vente and his associates at the Arthur Murray studios are donating their services to the 10th division OCD ball, according to Frank Burke, general chairman for the dance.

Saturday, June 13, St. Peter Lutheran school will have its annual school picnic. The picnic will be held at Elk Grove Forest Preserve at the usual place. Children who have no means of transportation will meet at the school at 10 a. m. and be transported to the grove.

War Stamps and Bond Sale $700

The purchase of stamps and bonds has been proceeding at a brisk rate at St. Peter Lutheran school. To date the total sales amounts to $700.00. Provisions will be made so children may purchase stamps also during the vacation months.

Heights radio man commissioned in army signal corps

Mr. Paul Moore of 634 South Belmont, Scarsdale, who recently applied for a commission in the Army has been given a commission as a First Lieutenant and will leave June 16 for an eastern Army Camp for training as a Radio Operator in the Signal Corps.

Mr. Moore has been employed for the past twelve years as a Transmission Engineer for the National Broadcasting Co., and his line of work makes him well qualified for his new position in the army.

Committee preparing plans to include Civilian Defense groups in big parade

Arlington Heights will celebrate July 4th this year in a way that will excell any previous observance by the local community. With the many opportunities to display the alertness of Arlington as a community in the present war, the executive committee is adding to original plans. They are now taking form and final approval is expected to be given to them at a meeting being held this Thursday evening.

Herman Bauman, who is parade chairman, is taking the initiative and has set a pace for other committees to follow. Mr. Bauman says, "if Arlington Heights organizations and patriotically minded citizens give this event the same cooperation that they have given to other wartime projects, the coming parade will be the greatest thing of its kind that has ever occurred here."

He suggests that every man, woman, boy and girl who has a bicycle, decorate it and make that section of the parade a colorful showing. The O.C.D. with the different units such as the nurses auxiliary, police, auxiliary firemen, air wardens, and the Camp Fire Girls, Blue Birds, Boy Scouts, Cubs, high school band and Merle Guild Junior Drum and Bugle Corps, are all invited to participate. It may also be possible to bring in outside organizations and in this way make this a real patriotic demonstration.

Mr. Bauman says that he is open to any suggestions and will welcome any help that can be given to him.

The public may be surprised to learn that display fireworks are not taboo. The powder and supplies used by fire works manufacturers were secured before Pearl Harbor and can not be diverted to war use. Therefore the usual fireworks display will be shown at the Arlington event. Added patriotic features will be a picture of Gen. MacArthur and a great Victory piece.

"The buttons are here; how many do you want?" are the words that are being heard over the telephone by the business houses who use such a method to underwrite the expenses of the day. All costs of the annual celebration are covered before the arrival of the day which eliminates the need of giving special stress to profit-making features.

Because of the war there may be a return to the old time July 4th celebration with a well known speaker and patriotic program. Further announcements will appear in next week's issue.

The celebration is being sponsored jointly by the Trade and Civic association and the Lions club. The members of the committees are;

USO War Fund drive starts Thursday

The U.S.O. canvass is in full swing in Arlington Heights as the Herald goes to press. The first three days of this week have been used by workers in calling on the business and professional people of the community. Starting Thursday, June 11, the drive moves into the residential sections.

The quota set this year for Arlington Heights is almost double that of 1941.

The U.S.O. needs your help now. This essential part of our war effort cannot be allowed to falter. Here's the answer to the question that's in every loyal American's mind—"What Can I Do To Help?"

Your gift to the U.S.O. will go a long way toward victory.

Don't let the boys down.

When you are asked to make your contribution, give with a smile to keep 'em smiling.

Mr. M. R. Warson has been named treasurer by Willard T. Loeber, the local chairman. All neighbors planning to be out of the city are requested to mail or bring their contributions to Mr. Warson at 103 W. Campbell st.

Assisting Mr. Loeber are Mrs. Harry VanDeusen, co-chairman; M. R. Warson, treasurer and the following captains: Mr. E. J. Harris, Mrs. Ross Richards, Mr. L. Griffith, Mrs. Edwin Bouffard, Mrs. Frank Sesterhenn, Mrs. Jos. Weber, Mrs. George Tuttle.

Are on annual fishing trip to Hines lodge

The boys at Arlington Seating Co. spend the last six months of the year telling about the good time they had at their annual visit to Hines Lodge at Park Falls, Wis., and the next six months about the amount of fishing they will do this year. The good time is always there; the fishing is problematical.

Anyway the old gang left Thursday morning for five days of fishing, and whatever else that may be waiting for them. They are Richard, Robert and Frank Jahn, Glenn Benson and Geo. K. Volz. A Hines representative will bestow on them the keys of the lodge and fishing holes.

Former Arlington man to Britain as instructor

Hickey moved to California with his wife and children about three years ago to accept a job in the Lockheed corporation at Burbank.

John Jr., who attended the Arlington high school, is now in the marines. Mrs. Hickey will stay in California with her daughter.

Schools close, teachers 'light out' this Friday

Friday of this week will find the local schools closed for the summer, the kids "rarin' " to go and the teachers equally ready to welcome a vacation.

Reports from the schools show varied interests occupying the teaching staffs this summer with many of them just planning to loaf for awhile.

Those whose plans are undecided are Donald Thompson, John L. Grose, Glen Brown, Carey Clark, Florence Elfeld, Earl L. Joyner, Helen M. Meier, and Edith Lindsay, who think staying at home will be very fine until some thing better comes along.

Stanley Myers will be excavation foreman at the Green River Ordnance Plant in Dixon, Ill., Elsa Muuss will go to her home in Chicago, and others who will return to their homes are Mary Funk who will go to her home in Urbana, and Darrell Diggins to his home in Harvard. Jane Ann Gannon will vacation at Long Beach, California, Virginia Taylor will spend the summer working on her Master's Degree at Northwestern University, and Virginia Kral will be a member of the Faculty of the National High School Institute at Northwestern University, and will assist on the costuming of the summer production of the University Theatre. Dorothy Power will teach canoeing in Wisconsin at a girls' camp, and Clayton Wintersteen will work as a carpenter in the home area. Robert Schultheis expects to be in the armed services of the U. S. some time this summer, and Carroll Whalen is still a patient in the hospital.

Naomi Smart in the office will spend part of her summer in Michigan and Lois Bokelman will remain at home for the summer.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"God the Only Cause and Creator" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, June 7.

The Golden Text was, "Lord, thou art God, which hast made heaven, and earth, and the sea, and all that in them is" (Acts 4: 24).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "O Lord, how manifold are thy works! in wisdom hast thou made them all: the earth is full of thy riches. Thou sendest forth thy spirit, they are created: and thou renewest the face of the earth" (Psalms 104).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The creative Principle — Life, Truth, and Love—is God. The universe reflects God. There is but one creator and one creation. This creation consists of the unfolding of spiritual ideas and their identities, which are embraced in the infinite Mind and forever reflected. These ideas range from the infinitesimal to infinity, and the highest ideas are the sons and daughters of God" (p. 502).

Arlington Cub Pack News

The Cub softball league is moving on rapidly with the Bobcats and the Bears setting the pace.

The Bears claim that first place is a cinch for them and the Bobcats are equally as sure of themselves.

I am warning both of them that there is a dark horse among the other teams that to date has not shown their true strength.

The writer of this article predicts that no team shall go through their entire schedule undefeated.

Many of these Cubs have never played much baseball and after two or three games they improve to such an extent the power of the whole team has changed. So I warn you, Bobcats and Bears, do not be too sure of yourselves.

Many view patriotic display at Walsh garden

James Walsh, Mt. Prospect resident, has spent years in developing his lawn and garden, which are today attracting unusual attention by home folks as well as passing motorists, who attracted to the electrically lighted place, stop and give it the "once over."

This year Mr. Walsh has topped all other garden years with a huge V made from red geraniums and white and blue ageratum. He has planted a flag with blue lobelias set with 48 stars of white verbenas. The red stripes are red alts and the white ones are sweet alyssum. Next, in tribute to the Navy, he will set out two five foot anchors on either side of the grass steps.

The rock garden is topped by a miniature castle, complete with moat and cannon. At the lily pond white cement birds spout water from their beaks. At the fountain an Indian maid is shooting an arrow which in turn shoots out water. Gold fish duck their heads under these liquid offerings.

Three or four switches must be turned on before the garden is lighted for evening. There are floodlights on the flag and the flowered V mushroom lights from the Century of Progress exposition reveal the color of smaller flower beds and there are lights in the castle and shafts of light to accompany the rippling waterfall in the rock garden.

Junior aux. bundles for bluejackets plan outdoor supper

On Tuesday night the Junior Auxiliary of the Bundles for Bluejackets met at the home of Mrs. George Hartford to discuss plans for their part of the outdoor supper to be held June 20 for members and their friends and children. The Juniors are entertaining twenty boys from Great Lakes at this outing, each girl to provide supper for herself and one boy.

There will be races for the children in the afternoon, a fortune teller and music around the fire in the evening.

The Lady Eve doll is on display at the Webber Paint store, North Dunton, this week.

The Lady Eve doll will be a very special guest, waiting to go home with her new owner.

The outing will start at two o'clock and the place is Deer Grove, Saturday, June 20. All members, their children and friends are invited. Transportation problems will be solved by doubling up with neighbors and friends to conserve on cars. Mrs. Kenneth Kennedy is in charge of arranging transportation.

The members of the Bundles for America who met on Wednesday at the field house, enjoyed a rare treat when Private Calvin Page, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Page, Arlington Heights, an air cadet at Chanute Field, spoke on his life in the army. The members were happy to hear Calvin praise the excellent food and care that the boys in the armed forces receive. Calvin was presented with a comfort kit, upon joining the army, filled by the Bundles for America and thanked the organization for it.

The 19 year old enlistee is a graduate of the local high school and well known about town.

Nutrition class enrollment tops one hundred

One hundred and ten Arlington Heights women are now registered for the nutrition course conducted by Mrs. Mary Lawton Wright each Monday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock at the field house.

Last Monday thirty new registrants attended the second of the series of eight lessons. For this group Mrs. Wright has arranged a class at 10:00 a. m. next Monday when the first lesson will again be presented. Anyone not yet registered for the course may do so at that time.

Those who believe with Dr. Henry C. Sherman of Columbia University that "A proper diet will help you take a long time growing old" can find out in these nutrition classes just how to stay young through the years with diet. More vitamin A, vitamin G and the food element calcium are what prevents the development of premature aging. Nutrition class students will learn where to procure these elements and how to prepare food so they are retained as well as innumerable other aids to better health through better eating.

Civilian defense workers near end of instruction

Hundreds of Civilian Defense workers in Arlington Heights are nearing the end of their courses in basic training. Their willingness and attention to detail have been the subject of the highest praise from instructors in the many classes which have been held. Their knowledge will soon be put to the test in drills set up to show how well our air raid defenses function.

The time and the nature of these drills has not been revealed but it is known at local Civilian Defense headquarters that a test will soon be made of the communications system all over this part of the Metropolitan area.

Outlines local civilian defense organization

Throughout the whole United States observers are constantly on watch to report the movements of any strange aircraft. Should any such planes be seen, their presence is immediately reported to an information center. From that point onward the operation of defenses against raiding planes is twofold. Interceptor centers are notified and the "active defenses" begin to function.

Warning centers are likewise notified and the "passive defenses" begin their operation. It is with the working of the passive defenses that most civilians are immediately concerned. An understanding by everyone of the way in which the Civilian Defense system functions throughout a large area is essential to its effective operation.

The Chicago Metropolitan area is one of three industrial and urban regions in the United States which were considered to be big enough and important enough to require their own Civilian Defense organizations apart from those set up in the forty-eight states. This Chicago Area has fifteen divisions in it, seven in the city and eight in the suburban areas around it.

Arlington Heights is in Division Ten, which extends along the Northwestern railroad from Norwood Park to Arlington Heights and from Wheeling south to Schiller Park. Headquarters for this division are at Des Plaines, the geographical center of the area, and from there the defenses of the entire division are co-ordinated. Division chief Charles Garland, mayor of Des Plaines, and H. A. Becker, head of the Des Plaines police department, have set up a highly efficient organization for this purpose. The control room, largely the personal work of Chief Becker, is a remarkable piece of work, created entirely in the past two months for the purpose of smooth handling of reports and messages. The lives of thousands may depend on the operation of that center alone.

A notification from the Army Information center to the Metropolitan Control Center in Chicago results at once in a notification to the control center in each of the fifteen divisions.

When Division Ten headquarters receives its first warning—known as a "yellow alert" the same signal is immediately sent from the control center in Des Plaines to each community C. D. headquarters. In Arlington Heights, as in other communities, this is the signal for the protective services of the local C. D. organization to place themselves in a state of instant readiness for action.

The approach of hostile planes to the Chicago area will result in a series of warnings sent out to each division headquarters and thence to every local Civilian Defense organization. These warnings are the yellow alert, the blue alert, and the red alert. The first two are designed to bring the C. D. organization into readiness. The red alert is the signal for sounding the air raid siren as a warning to the entire civilian population to take cover.

In the event of a bombing incident, firemen, medical service, rescue squads, and other needed workers will be sent to the places where they are required as shown by the reports of air raid wardens. Complete and accurate reports are vital to the full protection of the community. Trained workers who are on the job in an emergency are essential. The Civilian Defense Council of Arlington Heights is preparing that kind of protective service in co-operation with the hundreds of workers in training.

If the need for equipment and dent in Arlington Heights the trained workers should become greater than could be met by local facilities, the proper division officers, on duty in the division control room, would immediately, upon request, dispatch reinforcements from other parts of Division Ten. Should the need be even greater, help would be sent by the Metropolitan Area control center from other divisions. Likewise, Arlington Heights services will be on call to aid other communities in the division and other divisions in the Metropolitan area. This organized exchange of local volunteer services is the backbone of Civilian Defense.

The morale of the American people has been amply displayed in recent days as news came in of renewed and repeated attacks on Midway Island and Alaska. Confidence is the key to morale, whether among the armed forces or among the vast civilian population on which the fighters depend for supplies and support. Confidence is born of strength and knowledge. As our people have realized the growing strength of our armed forces and the steady expansion of our civilian protective services, their assurance has risen in proportion.

Chevy dealers expand 'medium' trucks for big hauls

Practical exhaustion of the supply of heavy-duty trucks, upon which hinge the major hauling operations in the country, focuses attention upon the necessity for truck dealers to convert so-called "medium" trucks to take over the big-haul operations which must be done if the nation's transportation system is to handle its end of the war job.

Foreseeing the present critical situation, Chevrolet has made available to dealers full instruction for expanding the capacities of medium trucks to pinch-hit for the no longer available heavy-duty units.

"Thousands of truck operators cannot purchase new equipment under the rulings established by the Office of Defense Transportation," said N. M. Lattof, Arlington Heights Chevrolet dealer. "And even those operators who are eligible are up against a dire shortage of the heavier equipment. The only answer open to the automotive industry and the businessmen it must serve, is conversion of such equipment as is still available.

Citing an example of a medium truck conversion job, Mr. Lattof pointed to a highway tanker, a mammoth unit whose original capacity was 14,000 lbs. gross weight. With the addition of a tandem drive rear end, special transmission, and tandem semi-trailer, the unit now handles 56,000 lbs. gross.

Accounts show home-produced food worth $425

Home-produced foods contributed $425 on the average to the pocketbooks of Illinois farm families studying money management through home accounts this past year. A summary of the 1941 records for 448 farm families revealed that increased retail prices of food had boosted the money value of their home-produced food by $87 over the previous year.

More than half of these families produced from 55 to 75 per cent of the food they consumed, reported Mrs. Ruth Crawford Freeman, home accounts specialist, University of Illinois College of Agriculture. Another fourth of the group produced from 35 to 55 per cent of the food they consumed, and 14 per cent produced as much as 75 per cent of all the food they ate.

While keeping figures on the quantities and retail value of the food from the farm, these families also checked the nutritive value of food they were eating against the recommendations for a liberal diet set up by national nutrition authorities. Eggs, meat, potatoes and certain other vegetables and fruits were produced and used in sufficient quantities for a liberal diet, Mrs. Freeman said. Tomatoes and strawberries, leafy, green and yellow vegetables, all of which are high in needed vitamins, were not produced in large enough quantities for a liberal diet. The amount of milk used met the lower requirement for adults but was considered insufficient for a child's diet.

In addition to what they produced, these families bought at the grocery store, on the average, $267 worth of food.

Mrs. Kramer, Mrs. Bolstad and Mrs. Remsing served each one with a dish of ice cream and cookies. Mrs. F. Campbell was the pianist for the evening. Jeanne Merrion, one of the graduates, played a piano selection.

IN CASE OF SNAKE BITE

by C. W. LUSSMAN of Sieburg Pharmacy

That old expression — "in case of a snake bite" is a jocular reference to the time honored remedy used by our forefathers—something alcoholic.

There is a more scientific remedy, a more efficacious specific. Snake Bite Virus can be obtained at modern pharmacies. The traveler who sets out for regions where snakes are known to be regular residents is advised to stock this virus in his first aid kit. Instructions are fully given in the accompanying literature.

Naturally one's best resource in an emergency of this kind is the service of a doctor. Where a physician is quickly available he should be obtained to administer the remedy.

It's been a long time since we've talked to you but mainly because there was never anything to talk about. Getting into the swing of things again.

The Junior Rally held at Higgins-Canfield was really a success for 96 juniors alone registered, not counting the senior guests, the District representatives, pastors and others. When we think of 135 seniors at a senior rally we seniors really ought to hang our heads in shame. The afternoon session was an interesting and inspiring one with a talk on gaining new members by Mr. Adolph Rittmueller of the district. The election of officers show Art Krause of Norwood Park, president; Howard Kehe of Des Plaines, vice president; Florence Kolb of Des Plaines, secretary; and Norman Collignon of Norwood, treasurer. We wish them all luck and God's blessings to carry on the work which was so capably started last year. In the evening there weren't enough skates to go around so you can see for yourself how many were there for that.

Last Wednesday the newly elected officers of the seniors and the senior society presidents together with the old zone board members met in Des Plaines for the purpose of appointing new chairmen. The appointees are as follows, but since most of them have neither officially accepted or declined, the list is by no means complete: Christian Service, Annetta Bicknese (re-appointed); Christian Knowledge, Lilah Mensching (re-appointed); Cultural Activities, June Colburn; leadership Training, Arlene Nagel; publicity, Lois Bokelman; publications, Kurt Meyer; athletics, Wayne Ehrhardt (re-appointed); recreation, Dorothy Machel; membership training, Melvin Harting (vice-president).

We hear that Gertrude Fiene of Itasca just recently became engaged to Arthur Falkenberg of Christ, Oak Park. Their wedding bells will ring on July 4. June Bunge also of Itasca received a beautiful ring from Private Arnold Kolzow of Hinsdale. Congratulations.

Illinois VFW encampment this month

A wartime encampment, with distinguished army, navy and marine corps dignitaries participating, is announced for the Veterans of Foreign Wars, Department of Illinois, in Chicago, June 25, 26 and 27, with headquarters in the Morrison Hotel.

Mayor Edward J. Kelly of Chicago will make a speech of welcome Thursday morning, June 25, to the joint session of the department and the state's women's auxiliary, according to Commander John Cahill of Post No. 1337. After this there will be a presentation of distinguished guests and the encampment will get down to business.

The encampment has been termed the "ACE" encampment by Department Commander Earl Southard because army air force recruiting officers in the Chicago and 6th Corps area have agreed to participate by inducting a class of air force cadets during the encampment.

Further details of the program as arranged so far include a banquet for the department commander and President Mrs. Marie Rice of Chicago, of the women's auxiliary, Thursday evening, June 25. This will be followed by a floor show. A grand military ball will follow at 10 p. m.

Map recreation summer program

The Recreation program at the Arlington Heights Recreation Park will get under way the week following July 4.

There will be a morning program scheduled twice a week for boys and girls of grammar school age. This program will be conducted by leaders who will be announced at a later date. The schedule will include softball, volley ball, horse shoes, croquet, box hockey, circle golf, and many other group, as well as individual games.

Mrs. Milton Daniels will again be in charge of the story telling hour for the smaller children and the tentative day will be Wednesday of each week. Last summer a number of children received a great deal of enjoyment out of Mrs. Daniels' story hour.

Those boys and girls wishing to take part in this program sign up at the field house before July 4.

Vacation church school registration Saturday

By now the village of Arlington Heights should be well acquainted with the fact that the Presbyterian, Methodist, Episcopal and St. John's Evangelical churches are sponsoring the first Community Vacation Church School, to be held from June 15 through July 3, at the Presbyterian church. A demonstration of the work completed will be given on Sunday evening, July 5, details to be announced later.

The little tots of 4 and 5 years, will sing songs they know and will learn new ones, listen to stories, play games, both new and old, and will be taught the fundamentals of cooperating when they play at the sand tables. The Beginners Department is under the leadership of Mrs. Mary Lauterburg as superintendent, and the following teachers: Mrs. Cara Parker, Mrs. Marjorie Aldrich, Mrs. Verdeima Ashcraft, Miss Leila MacDougall and Mrs. Evelyn Stadelman. Mrs. Mary Moehling will be a substitute teacher.

The "small fry" of the village, 1st, 2nd and 3rd graders, will be taught absorbing lessons of truth and love, new songs and games, unselfishness and consideration when playing with crayons and pictures. This Primary Department is staffed by Mrs. Lucile Preilberg, superintendent, and Mrs. Dorothy Othmer, Mrs. Catherine Heiss, Miss Katherine Hines, Mrs. Anna Fehlman, Mrs. Clarence Stadtler and Mrs. B. L. Cochrane. Mrs. Edward Harth and Miss Katherine Kealey will substitute.

The dairymen of Arlington Heights have very kindly consented to donate milk for the very young children and the Community Vacation church school is taking this opportunity to publicly thank the Pet Milk Co., Mr. Duntemman and Meyer Bros. for their support and cooperation.

Both truth and fiction will prevail in the adventures of courage, bravery, honesty and loyalty taught to the 4th, 5th and 6th graders in the Junior Department. Patriotism will be stressed. Mrs. Albert Bauer, superintendent of this department, will be ably assisted by Mrs. Elma Hanke, Mrs. Harvey Barber, Mrs. John Page, Miss Marion Becker as teachers and Miss Nancy Kumler with handwork. Mrs. Mamie Baumgarten will substitute.

The Intermediate Department (7th, 8th and 9th graders) will be put thru the paces of drama, study, stories, song, handwork, fellowship, cooperation and neighborliness by Mrs. William Kamphenkel as superintendent and Mrs. Herman McCoy, Miss Harriet Henry, Mrs. Bruce Jarvis and Miss Lucile Paddock as teachers. Mrs. Melvin Kurtz will substitute.

While all these classes are going on, Miss Ida Krumwiede will take care of the small children of the teachers and workers.

The relationship of God working through all the phases of life will be brought out in the lessons. Books of inter-denomination will be used. Children of any church or of no church will be welcomed every day or as often as they can possibly come while the school is in session. If transportation is a problem, call your pastor and make arrangements with him to come to school.

Please register your child Saturday afternoon, June 13, from one to four o'clock at the Presbyterian church. It is one method of helping us get off to a fine start Monday morning. However, if for some reason your child is not registered Saturday afternoon, send him to us Monday morning and we will take care of him anyway. There is no registration fee. Contributions will be gladly and gratefully accepted.

"Nothing ventured, nothing gained," is an old saying. Let us hope that this first Community Vacation church school proves a huge success and that it is just the beginning of a fine and worthwhile project to boost the town's slogan, "The City of Good Neighbors."

Motor Reduces Blowouts

Charles H. Roberts of Burbank, Calif., has invented a hydraulic motor to be installed within the wheels of heavier airplanes to set the wheels spinning before they touch the ground, thereby reducing impact and danger of blowouts.

Marryin' minded urged to attend health center

The diagnostic chest clinic of the Des Plaines Health Center has been particularly planned for young couples contemplating marriage, it was announced today. On Monday, June 15, from 10 a .m. to 12 noon, the regular clinic will be held at the Center's offices, 1561 Ellinwood ave., and the need for premarital tuberculin skin tests will be stressed. Arlington Heights people desiring to attend the clinic are invited to the Des Plaines Health Center.

Since tuberculosis is a communicable disease, preventive measures to stop its spread should be taken. Among young people tuberculosis kills more women between the ages of 15 and 30 and more men between the ages of 20 and 40. In this age group when young people are marrying, it is more important than ever that they should be sure before marriage that there is no tuberculosis infection existing in either one.

The year round clinic schedule of the Des Plaines Health Center and the activities of the Arlington Heights Health Center are made possible by The Tuberculosis Institute of Chicago and Cook county, with whom the local health centers are affiliated. No charge is made at the clinics which are open to both adults and children. The annual sale of Christmas seals finances the health activities of the Institute.

Court of honor Sunday, June 21

This session of the Court of Honor is Council-wide, and Scouts from all over the Council will receive awards. A special program in keeping with the outdoor setting will be held and parents and friends of Scouting are cordially invited to attend.

New first aid class to be formed

A new first aid class is being formed in Arlington Heights for the express purpose of bringing in the "stragglers" of the last course, and for any new members who may be interested in the project.

The new class will meet this Monday night at 8 p. m. at the Arlington fieldhouse, under the direction of Dr. Best.

List requirements for new Scout emergency unit

One of the new features at Camp OH-DA-KO-TA, the summer training camp for scouts of the Northwest Suburban Council, will be the opportunity for special training in Emergency Service Corps work.

A new unit is being established with new tents and equipment, and Scouts who have attended camp at least one previous season may camp in this section. Those who are over 15 and are First Class Scouts may qualify for Emergency Service Corps, and those who are under 15 and are First Class Scouts may qualify as Emergency Service apprentices.

New wall tents have been purchased, wooden floors provided, and the unit will provide for two patrols of eight scouts each in four tents.

This will provide an interesting program for First Class Scouts and provide them with training which they can bring back to their Troops.

The qualifications for Emergency Service Corps membership are as follows: First Class Scout, 15 years or more of age, in excellent physical condition, with written permission of parents and approval of Scoutmaster. The Scout must have the following Merit Badges: First Aid, Firemanship, Safety, Pioneering, Personal Health, Public Health.

He must also qualify in the following: Run a mile in 8½ minutes and climb an 18-foot rope, hand over hand, in 15 seconds. He must tie the following knots with rope over ½" in diameter: Square, Bowline, Taut Line Hitch, Blackwall Hitch, Two Half Hitches, Clove Hitch, Bowline on a Bight, Sheet Bend, Cat's Paw.

Camp OH-DA-KO-TA opens on June 21 and will continue for 8 one-week periods until August 16. A Scout may reserve a period for camp by filling out the application blank and sending it, together with 50 cents registration fee, to Scout Headquarters. All registrations should be sent in as soon as possible in order to be able to attend the period desired. There is still room in all periods, but the third and fourth in particular are rapidly filling. The capacity of the camp is 100 campers.

It Happened Here

Patsy, the little daughter of the major stationed at Perrin Field, Texas, writes to her grandma and grandpa in Illinois; she belongs to a rhythm band wielded the "sticks" at a recent program. Her letter: "Dear Grandma and Grandpa: We have nine dollars in our stamp book, now. Thank you for the money and stamps you sent me. I had a program and I sang the loudest so Mother could tell which was me, also the sticks were afraid to play, it seemed like. We went out for a ride Sunday. It started out that we saw the farm and the next thing was I thought I saw a turtle and Daddy said, all right, we'll back up and see what it was. We did and Daddy looked and there was a turtle. It was a snapper. Daddy picked it up and it was as fat as this paper. We saw a baby colt. It was running. It went around zig-zag. We looked at it, it looked at us and ran again. I said, why don't we ask the man that owns it if we could use it and I could take a ride. Daddy said, no, Patsy, and so did Mother. His back is too little and you might break it. We picked some radishes and some lettuce out of our yard. I guess summer is coming. It's just spring but when it's summer I bet it's going to be hotter than it was in Kenilworth, and I bet spring is just as hot as summer in Kenilworth. I love you, Grandma and Grandpa, and every night that I go to bed I dream about you coming down here and me just hugging around your neck. And when I wake in the morning and see that it isn't true, I just wonder why they come in the night and go in the morning." (Dictated to mother but not read).

AIR RAID PRECAUTIONS

As soon as you hear the air raid warning, if it comes at night, make a quick survey of your premises and turn off all outside lights, porch, garage and any other.

Turn out all inside lights except in the room or rooms which you have chosen as refuge and which have been properly blacked out. If there is a fire in an open fireplace extinguish it.

Double check your refuge to be sure that all is in order. Go outside and investigate to be sure no light is escaping. Look at your neighbor's premises too, and inform him if you see any light.

Within five minutes after the beginning of an air raid alarm, all lights must be out or obscured. If you have not made blackout preparations or if you do not have time to complete your precautions in the time limit set, put out your lights. Remember, a lighted window can be seen by airmen thirteen miles away—two and one half minutes flying time.

Don't shut off your main supply of electricity, gas or water. Control these services at the points of use.

Do not argue. An enemy airman doesn't. If anyone refuses to cooperate, call an Air Raid Warden immediately, or report to the nearest Civilian Defense office.

Wheeling unit Home Bureau tackles canning

Home Canning was the theme of the May meeting of the Wheeling township unit of the Cook County Home Bureau. The meeting was held Thursday afternoon, May 28, in the home of Miss Christ Moehling.

Mrs. Marie Cornelius, New Home Advisor, presented a timely lecture — demonstration on "home canning." Canning is an excellent way to conserve food from those Victory Gardens which are now in process. There is great satisfaction in serving your own canned fruits and vegetables. Mrs. Cornelius encouraged all members to do more canning. All the problems of canning can be solved by following Mrs. Cornelius' simple directions for pressure cooker method either in glass jars or tin cans; the hot water bath or the open kettle method, which may be safely used for some foods.

All present received a book entitled "Home Canning of Fruits, Vegetables and Meats" and also suggestions for making pickles and a booklet on how to preserve and use peaches. Mrs. Cornelius announced that other recipes and directions will be sent to members as foods come in season.

Mrs. C. H. Mills then presented the art of washing dishes. Dishwashing may be a very monotonous job which necessarily follows every meal. But Mrs. Mills' delightful demonstration would be an inspiration for any one to find a little more enjoyment in performing this task.

After the meeting was adjourned everyone present enjoyed the recreation led by Mrs. O. G. Barrett.

The June meeting will be held Thursday, June 25, in the home of Mrs. Victor Reed, East Euclid avenue, Arlington Heights, when "Color in Clothing" will be presented and also a lesson on sugar substitutes.

Arlington garden club presents 'a fine show'

The annual Flower and Garden show of the local Garden club held Friday and Saturday was one of the finest they have had in the village, with an abundance of flower specimens, table arrangements, flower arrangements and special exhibits making the show of interest to all who attended.

Many of the exhibitors went home with more than one blue ribbon with the judging done by Mr. R. J. Mohr of the Garfield Park Conservatory and Mrs. Harry Beile of the village.

Outstanding among the flower arrangements was a single large pink peony placed in a lovely rose bowl, with small blue glass bubbles floating on top, exhibited by Mrs. George Hartford.

Another arrangement which displayed much ingenuity and which was most attractive was an arrangement exhibited by Mrs. James Sommer, using only foliage of various types. Both arrangements received first prize ribbons.

A vegetable arrangement by Mrs. Robert Palmer was most attractive and a miniature flower arrangement which was delightful was a miniature konch shell holding a cluster of cecile brunner roses displayed by Mrs. Ira Parker.

Several beautiful table arrangements brought forth many comments from those who attended, particularly the tables displayed by Mrs. Wm. Brown set with blue wedgewood and Royal Doulton China.

A clever garden arrangement displayed was the wheelbarrow of potted plants from the garden of the Adam Sledz, a riot of color which can travel from place to place in the garden.

Many other beautiful arrangements, plants, and single blooms were displayed to make the show a complete success. The beauty of the show was enhanced by the wonderful display of peonies exhibited by Mr. Charles Klehm.

The Bundles for America exhibit was most interesting, a table covered with sod, with the army and navy insignia in colored carnations in the center and a small army camp on one side and a small lake with navy boats on the other. Two members of the society in blue and white uniforms were in attendance during the show, to answer questions and to aid in the sale of tickets for the Lady Eve Doll.

The Presbyterian Aid served refreshments in the basement of the Field House during the show.

Bob Richards takes Park Ridge bride Saturday

Bob Richards, son of Mrs. Robert H. Richards, Sr., of Arlington Heights and Miss Violet Lillian Lindskoog, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eric Lindskoog of Park Ridge were married on Saturday evening, June 6th, in the St. Mary's Episcopal church of Park Ridge.

Father Hubbard married the young couple in a candlelight service at 7 p. m. before an altar lovely in the light of white tapers and decorated with white peonies. White lighted tapers also graced the aisle for the bridal party.

The bride who was given in marriage by her father wore for her wedding a gown of ivory satin fashioned with a close fitting bodice, its square neckline trimmed with lace. The sleeves were long and close fitting and the skirt was full with a long train. Her fingertip veil was held in place with a coronet trimmed with flowers and she carried white orchids.

Preceding the ceremony Martin Dial sang "I Love But Thee" and during the ceremony he sang softly "Oh Perfect Love."

Evelyn Lindskoog, sister of the bride, served as maid of honor and the bridesmaids were Mary Lou Richards, sister of the groom and Avrian Lindskoog, sister of the bride.

The maid of honor was gowned in dusty blue chiffon fashioned with a close fitting bodice and a bouffant skirt. Her flowers were pink roses and blue delphinium. The bridesmaids were gowned alike in pond lily pink chiffon fashioned in the same manner as the gown of the maid of honor. They carried blue delphinium and white daisies.

Attendants for the groom were Donald Hanauer of Arlington Heights who served as best man and Oliver Lindskog of Park Ridge, brother of the bride and Robert Heinze of Wheeling. The men in the party were attired in summer formals.

The bride's mother wore for the wedding a formal of aqua silk jersey, her corsage of pink roses and yellow daisies. The groom's mother wore a gold colored formal and her corsage was of yellow roses and white daisies.

The wedding reception for 250 guests was held in the garden of the bride's parents at 913 Forest View avenue, Park Ridge, immediately following the ceremony.

The young couple left late Saturday evening for a ten-day honeymoon in Wisconsin and upon their return will be at home at 919 North Dunton avenue. Bob graduated from the local high school and attended the Michigan State college for three years. He is employed by the Illinois Bell Telephone Co. in Arlington Heights.

The bride is a graduate of Maine Township high school and was employed by the Middle States Telephone Co. of Park Ridge prior to her marriage.

Out of town guests at the wedding were from Minneapolis, Minn., Burlington, Wis., Aurora, Ill., and Waukegan, Ill.

Mrs. Groves and the children will leave the village Friday to spend a week in Peoria with relatives before continuing their journey to their new home in Texas. Mr. Groves will follow later.

Well known Heights business man succumbs

Mr. John J. Rubner, well known resident of Arlington Heights for the past twenty-eight years passed away in the family home on June 7, after being in failing health for the past two months.

Mr. Rubner was considered one of the "old timers" among the business men, having owned and operated the Rubner Drug Store ever since coming to the village in 1914. Mr. Rubner served the community as a registered pharmacist, who believed that a drug store should be a drug store, and nothing was ever sold across his counters but the purest of drugs.

His store was a gathering place for his friends, with several easy chairs comfortably placed in the rear of his store where many a good yarn was spun.

Mr. Rubner while in poor health for two months, still served his customers on Monday prior to his death, which occurred shortly before midnight on June 7th.

Mr. John J. Rubner was born in Milwaukee, Wis., on August 11, 1871, and lived there until shortly before his marriage in 1901. to Christina Stopper of Racine, Wis. The Rubners took up residence in Chicago where Mr. Rubner served as a pharmacist, coming to Arlington Heights in 1914, to open his drug store.

Two daughters were born to the union, Miss Anna Rubner, who passed away 18 years ago, and Miss Margaret Rubner, who with her mother, mourns the deceased.

Mr. Rubner was a member of the St. James Catholic church and the funeral was held on Wednesday morning from the St. James church with Father Stier officiating. Burial was in All Saints cemetery in Des Plaines.

American Legion auxiliary notes

The American Legion Auxiliary will sew for the Red Cross on June 16th. Annual reports of standing committee chairman should reach the historian, Mrs. Mae Wisersky by June 15th — to allow her time to prepare her report for the 9th district meeting on June 18th.

The Americanism chairman, Mrs. Vi. Rector, will present the award to the winner of the Essay Contest in the St. James school at 9:20 on Sunday morning, June 14th. Bryant Crumlish was the winner in the Public schools and Marian Helfers and Edna Laubinger received honorable mention.

Mesdames Carroll, Peroutka and Rector atttended an all day meeting of the Cook County Council on June 5th.

Membership chairman for 1943, Mrs. Bertha Teutsch, is busy collecting dues. The membership of the American Legion Auxiliary is like a garden, perennial and annual. Four charter members are still on the active list. Paying your dues is important in carrying on a work where this is no vacation, but attending meetings and getting interested enough to lend a hand in a work that never ends is equally important.

Barbara Ann Bagnall of Lake Geneva visited her aunt, Mrs. Gerald Morrissey last week. The Morrissey's took her home over the week-end and visited relatives in Lake Geneva.

Lorraine Grewe, Fred Kehe are married

Miss Lorraine Grewe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Grewe of Arlington and Fred E. Kehe, Jr., son of Alderman and Mrs. Fred Kehe, were married on Saturday afternoon at 4 p. m. in the St. Peter's Lutheran church with Rev. Harry Fricke officiating.

Ferns and pink and white peonies banked the altar before which the young couple said their vows, with a large assembly of friends and relatives in attendance.

Mr. Kolb played the wedding march as the bridal party entered the church and following the ceremony Dolores Hogreve and Lois Bokelman sang "Take Thou My Hand and Lead Me."

The bride chose white chiffon trimmed with lace for her bridal gown, its full skirt complete with a train. Its sleeves were long and close fitting, and her veil was held in place with a tiara of seed pearls. She carried white gladioli and blue delphinium.

The guests were served open faced sandwiches and cake and fruit punch from a candle lit buffet table decorated in blue and white, the class colors.

Mrs. Nilo Little served as chairman of the committee and Mrs. O. G. Barrett served as chairman of the entertainment committee. The young guests presented them with corsages as a "thank you" for their services.

IN MEMORIAM

In memory of Fred H. Linnenkohl, who passed away three years ago, June 14.

The sun and moon are shining
On a lone and silent grave;
Beneath lies one we dearly loved
But whom we could not save;
Friends may think we have forgotten
When at times they see us smile
Little do they know the heartaches
That our smile hides all the while.

PALATINE HOSPITAL NOTES

Mr. and Mrs. Quirine Weidner, Jr. of Techny, are the proud parents of a baby boy born June 4. The new infant, whose birth weight was only 2 lbs. 8 ounces, was forced to be brought into this world by a Cesarean operation due to the mother being stricken with kidney trouble. The baby is premature by 2 months as it was to be born in August. The mother and baby are doing fine. This is probably a record low weight for a living baby at the local hospital and anyone wishing to do so, may come to the hospital and look in at the nursery at this tiny bit of humanity.

Mr. Dallas Smith, Highland Park, is receiving treatment at the Palatine hospital for injuries received in an automobile accident on June 6.

Mrs. Thelma Howe, Barrington, received treatment at the hospital for injuries sustained in an automobile accident on June 7.

Mr. Herb Moehling, Palatine, had his tonsils removed on June 9.

James Moffitt is recovering from a slight attack of the measles.

The village church invites all the children of this community, to a two weeks Daily Vacation Bible school, beginning Monday at 9:00 a. m.

Mrs. Myrtle Nelson and daughter, Nancy, of Ohio, are visiting her parents, the William Meiers, of Walter ave.

Northbrook Camp Royal Neighbors, held their regular meeting last Monday evening, after an interesting report on the school of instruction by the recorder, Oracle and Receiver. Bunco was enjoyed. The winners were Receiver Emily Therrien and Recorder Caroline Mueller. The next meeting will be on July 13.

Oracle Alvina Stoelting, Recorder Caroline Mueller and Receiver Emily Therrien, attended the school of instruction of the Royal Neighbors at the Palmer House last week, May 28. A delicious luncheon was also enjoyed and a very interesting meeting.

Many attend Nebel-Ellerbrock nuptials May 30

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Stoelting attended the wedding of Miss Laverne Ellerbrock and Mr. Louis Nebel. Mr. Stoelting had the honor of "giving away" of his granddaughter.

Miss Ellerbrock, dressed in white satin, with long train, wearing a fingertipped veil carrying a bridal bouquet, marched up the aisle on the arm of her grandfather, Saturday, May 30, in the Lutheran church in Des Plaines, when she became the happy bride of Mr. Louis Nebel.

A reception for about 500 relatives and friends was held at the Rand Park hall where a delicious supper was enjoyed. The happy couple received many beautiful gifts, a short honeymoon trip and then the newlyweds will make their home in Chicago. Their many friends wish them all the luck and many happy years together.

READING & WRITING

BY Edwin Seaver AND Robin McKown

VLADIMIR POZNER, author of "The Edge of the Sword," was an army chauffeur during the great French retreat, which he describes in his exciting novel. One day, while inching his way along the refugee-packed roads, he made an inventory of everything he had gathered in his car during some 4,000 miles of flight.

VLADIMIR POZNER

Here's the inventory: "A blanket, a cushion, a twelve-gallon drum of gasoline, eight smaller gas cans, a revolver with four cartridges, a bottle of white Burgundy, a bottle of Brandy, toilet articles, ten packages of tobacco, a map of Parisian suburbs, three glasses he had received as a gift, a comb and brush he had stolen, the complete works of Shakespeare (in English), a shoe shine outfit, two flashlights, three pencils, some paper, a beret, a piece of wire, an old horseshoe, and, tucked into the back seat between the three glasses and the gasoline drum, an old and completely useless colonel."

Pozner's parents are Russian, but he was born in Paris in 1905. He's a graduate of the Sorbonne and had achieved a reputation as a novelist and critic when he was summoned for military duty in August, 1939. He served as chauffeur for various French officers. Drove them some 40,000 miles, he says. Now he's living in New York with his charming wife and child.

"The Edge of the Sword" was begun while he was still on duty. It was finished last fall in California. It's a story of France betrayed, as experienced by the common people. Here a tank crew searches for non-existent headquarters. There a 14-year-old boy gives his life for a soldier. In a third place, a young refugee gives birth to a child in the forest with only a group of wearied soldiers to assist her. These are only a few of the many dramatic incidents crowding the pages of Pozner's book. He makes you believe that Free France will rise again through the might of these wonderful uncommon common people.

July fourth is still some weeks away, but even at this early date it's a safe bet that the big book for Independence Day will be "Paul Revere and the World He Lived In" by Esther Forbes. It's interesting to note that the Book-of-the-Month Club judges selected Miss Forbes' book on April 18—the anniversary of Paul Revere's famous ride. Dealing as it does with the historic origins of our democracy, "Paul Revere and the World He Lived In" should make grand Fourth of July reading. It's the July book-of-the-month.

"Memories and Opinions," the autobiography of Horace Dutton Taft, founder and for fifty years headmaster of the Taft School at Watertown, Connecticut, is full of delightful anecdotes. One, particularly appropriate in these days, is the story of the man in his club who said to a friend: "What's the matter with you, Jim? You look as though you had lost your last friend." "You would too, if you had been through what I've been through." "What happened?" "I got home last night and found that my wife had taken my car and run away with another man." "My God, man! Not your new car!"

Mt. Prospect loses first league tilt

Last week Mt. Prospect played its first game of the Heights League and lost it, 8-4. Al Hedke pitched beautiful relief ball and deserved to win had it not been for the left fielder who missed a home run ball, paving the way for a 4-run 6th inning attack. Had it not happened the score would have been a 4-4 tie, and Mt. Prospect might have won in later innings.

Lose to Park Ridge Merchants in Nite Game

Last Friday the Mt. Prospect softball team traveled to Park Ridge to play the Park Ridge Merchants and were trounced, 16-4. Dick Busse started for Mt. Prospect but was kayoed on 12 runs and 11 hits. Al Hedke then relieved Busse in the third. Hedke pitched brilliant relief ball allowing four runs, two being unearned, on 6 hits for 6 innings. The inexperience of the team under lights and the youthfulness proved a great handicap.

Forest River news

Sunday, May 31, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Anderson, together with their daughter and her family, Mona and Bob Kramer and baby, visited Jack Anderson and his family in Racine, Wis. They all say they had a very nice trip and enjoyed their visit with Jack and his family.

Last Wednesday, June 3, Mona Kramer had quite an exciting experience. Aleen Hobb, Roman Anderson's fiancee, was taken ill suddenly with appendicitis. Mona rushed her to the Evanston hospital where Aleen underwent an appendectomy. Mona and Roman stayed with her till she came out of the anesthetic. She is doing quite nicely now.

On May 22 June Dyer and Chas. Reynolds were married in California. June and Chuck, as they were known, were two of our young folks from Forest River, who left here two years ago with June's brother, Bud, to find their fortune in California. Bud Dyer was inducted the same day into Uncle Sam's army. He is at present at Camp Crowder, Mo.

Mrs. Ray Kleeman's mother passed away Friday, May 29, at Kenosha, Wis.

Mrs. Beatrice Kramer and son, Billy, visited Mrs. Kramer's sister last Friday in Grennan Heights.

Little Margie Suhren was bit by a dog last Wednesday night. The bite was not as serious as thought at first.

Mrs. Hans Albers celebrated her birthday Sunday, June 7.

Joseph Remsing's father passed away Saturday, June 6, at the age of 62 years. He had been in ill health for about one year. He was buried Tuesday, June 9, at Elmwood cemetery.

Draftees warned not to leave job too early

Col. Paul G. Armstrong, State Director of Selective Service, this week issued a warning to men who have received their orders to report for induction urging that such men do not resign their positions until after they have found out whether or not they are acceptable to the Army.

"Many selectees," stated Colonel Armstrong, "quit their jobs before going to the induction station and later, after being rejected by the Army medical officers, find themselves without jobs. If at all possible, these men should arrange to have their jobs kept open for them until after they know definitely whether or not they have been passed at the induction station. I realize, of course, that there are some cases in which arrangements must be made ahead of time for the purpose of training replacements for inducted men. In the main, however, most employers are willing to hold a man's job open so that he can return to work immediately in the event of his rejection at the induction station."

The new plan of permitting inducted men to return to their home board areas for a period of approximately two weeks after induction before actually reporting for military duty will go into effect about June 15, Director Armstrong pointed out, and he said that this new plan would eliminate most of the job difficulties encountered in the past.

"You men," stated General Hershey, "are the backbone of the Selective Service System, and are rendering a great and patriotic service to your country at the most cruicial period in its history. I know that you put in long hours without a penny of compensation, and the Nation's unstinted gratitude should be yours in generous measure."

Recent heavy rains in this area have caused considerable damage in Des Plaines. In one case the mayor ordered the firemen to save a grocer's stock.

RFC announces loans to make coal purchases

The Government contemplates a critical shortage of railroad coal cars next fall and is extremely anxious that during the time prior to August 1, while such cars are available, that as large quantities of coal as possible be moved from the coal mines not only to the yards or storage facilities of retail coal dealers in every city, town and community throughout the country, but to homes and business establishments. A factor in such a program is the availability to retail coal dealers of necessary financing to purchase the coal at the mines and pay the transportation charges to the places of storage.

To assist in this program the Reconstruction Finance Corporation wants to do all that it can to make financing for such purposes readily and easily available. Loans for this purpose, in cooperation with banks, as well as loans for the purpose of aiding in financing war production, are being made by the thirty-two loan agencies of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation located throughout the country. The Chicago Loan Agency at 164 West Jackson Boulevard, Chicago, serves the Seventh Federal Reserve District.

About the appliances we advertise nowadays

The appliances we are now advertising are limited to those we have on hand, or those that are made available without interference with war production.

They have all been selected because their normal operation in the home comes at a time of day when our electrical facilities are more than adequate to meet present power requirements for both war production and civilian use.

Furthermore, we believe that their use in most cases will conserve energy and tend to release home labor for helpful wartime activities.

May I suggest that we follow Mayor Goedke's proclamation and fly our flag in front of our homes, not only for the period of June 8 to 14, but, continue to do so every day until the war is over?

"Mary" of "Life with Mother"

A Home Makers Ten Commandments for the Duration

1. I'll stop kicking about the high cost of living and "kick in" with more buying of defense bonds and stamps.
2. As a good home maker I'll try to learn more about good home management and also try to improve the methods I have been using in preparing food for my family.
3. As a good mother I'll put a little more effort into teaching my children to be thrifty young Americans.
4. As a good wife I'll try and remember my husband has his worries too, and not bother him with the little things that are always cropping up in my department.
5. I'll not complain of the evenings he spends from necessity away from home, but better use those hours to good advantage myself.
6. I'll try and devote at least one day each week to the war effort, sewing for the Red Cross, or possibly teaching one of the classes sponsored by the Red Cross. I might make dressings and bandages, or fit in wherever I am most needed.
7. I'll have my own personal conservation plan and save the grease, the papers, the old rubber, etc., Uncle Sam has advised us all to do.
8. I'll try to improve my mind by better reading and better contacts and therefore be a better companion, a housewife need not be a mental laggard.
9. If the money won't stretch for that new hat or dress, so that I may keep up with the Jones's I'll try to remember Mrs. Jones is also on a budget and we are in this war together.
10. I'll smile a little oftener, I'll complain a little less. I'll remember being in the U.S.A. makes me just doubly blest.

Summer "Son"

With vacation days upon us and once more we have a grand chance to get re-acquainted with our children, how about we mothers working out a part time budget for our young folks? We might take care of that part of their time where restlessness ends and real mischief sets in.

The first two or three weeks after school closes, leisure time is still a novelty and you won't need to anticipate too much trouble, but after that the fun begins.

Probably now more than ever, we should work out a better "stay at home" programme. The present conflict that may bring gas rationing and make incomes stretch still further, will naturally change our trend of living.

We can plan many activities that would include the neighbors children, such as stories and scrap book making under the shade trees for the younger children and planned competitive games for the older children. I see croquet has come back into its own.

How about a "Spur on the moment" picnic in the back yard that will include father when he comes home at six? He loves roasted weiners and potato salad as much as the kids.

One young mother of my acquaintance instituted a plan whereby every mother in her block took her turn in watching the kiddies for a day at a nearby wooded lot, they packed their lunch and had a grand time together, of course I think two mothers might make the above plan more feasible.

The old saying that "All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy" will always hold good, but all play and no work will not make Jack a desired citizen of tomorrow. You may live next door to a vacant lot or across the street from a neighborhood "eye sore," how about appealing to the children's sense of pride and have a clean-up campaign? They could pick up all the trash, do a little weeding and with big brother or daddy to help cut the grass, the result would be, an unexpected park next door. For six years we have lived next to just such a lot, and now with a little time and elbow grease, we have changed the aspects of our entire block.

The merit system works just as well on Johnny in vacation time as when he is in school, so why not reward him with something a little special for his summer accomplishments? Maybe he took good care of baby sister the week you were laid up with a sprained ankle, or proved himself a really good fellow and didn't complain when unexpected company deprived him of a show and lunch in the city.

Another thing worth mentioning here is your "Good neighbor policy." Let us teach our children a wholesome respect for the folks next door, we were taught early in life we must be our brother's keeper, but definitely our children are our own responsibility, we may have to stay home more than we did when they were in school. We may have to give up bridge occasionally, and golf less frequently, but we will have to keep an ever faithful eye on our own offspring.

Having our youngsters on a perpetual noisy Merry-go-round from early morning until night is a little hard on the folks next door, they too are entitled to a brief respite from that sort of thing each day, and the time honored idea of resting on the seventh day is still a grand one. Maybe the couple next door work—from necessity or possibly the breadwinner has very irregular hours, we must give them a bit of consideration.

A few hours relaxation every day is like a vitamin tablet for your children and a God-send to the people next door.

This good neighbor policy should also include such things as keeping off other peoples grass, not cutting through backyards, not picking other people's flowers, or in any way molesting their property, this, even though, traditionally the grass on the other side of the fense always looks greener.

Plan with your children, and guide them, and others beside yourself will enjoy your Summer "Son."

From Mother of Two.

Pastor protests calling of Sunday victory parade

Wheeling, Illinois
June 9, 1942

The Editor
Cook County Herald
Arlington Heights, Illinois
Dear Sir:

On Sunday, June 14th, a Victory Parade is scheduled in Chicago to begin at 10 a. m. We of the surrounding area are asked to contribute to its success.

As a Christian minister I protest against the thoughtless arrangements that have been made for this event. If anyone thinks that I am going to encourage the people of my church and community to have any part in it he is thinking very loosely.

The parade is intended to contribute to morale. There is one organization, which, when it follows its proper spirit and course, can contribute more to morale than all others put together and that is the church. To put it into a secondary role or to request it to take a back seat is a fatal error.

Consent to the present arrangements would open the door to a succession of exceptions. First this Sunday, then another for some victory show, circus, or field-day, etc., etc. This is not an emergency event. As a planned affair it will institute a policy of war time events for which the church will be asked to step aside.

Each Sunday at the time when we are asked to empty our churches we have been praying for the brothers and sons and other dear friends who are serving their country. We pray that they will be true to their faith and that their efforts may bring about a peace based on righteousness and justice for all. We pray for those who have already given their lives and for those who will yet be called upon to make the supreme sacrifice. I, for one, will not replace this with a parade.

Parades can be morale producing factors. But any event that shoves the religious convictions and practices of a great percentage of the people into the background, will ultimately prove to be a demoralizing factor.

If the church is to be considered as one of the agencies used by some bureau of the government to bring about victory then what are we fighting for? The church is not an instrument of the state. I would consider the participation of my church in this parade as a lowering of its standards. Such events are entering wedges, the beginning of a process that eventually would make the church what a certain political philosophy is seeking to make it today in Germany and Norway and in other countries. The fact that this tendency may not be intended or realized at present does not make it less dangerous but more so.

The church has a service to render. But let the church be the church.

Yours sincerely,
Rev. Donald C. Morrison.
Pastor.
Zion Presbyterian Church
Wheeling, Illinois.

Annual Meeting of The First Church of Christ, Scientist, Boston, Mass., June 8, 1942

The great task now confronting a liberated America, which more than three quarters of a century ago fought a four-years war to free the slaves, is to aid in working out the freedom of the whole world from slavery, The Christian Science Board of Directors told several thousand Christian Scientists gathered in annual meeting in Boston June 8.

Declaring that this would be the sentiment expressed by the Nation's martyred President, Abraham Lincoln, were he here today, the Directors pointed out that "through the ages tyrants have endeavored to 'govern and control men by engendering fear,' and quoting from Mary Baker Eddy's work, "Miscellany" (p. 191), they further say, "Persecution is the weakness of tyrants engendered by their fear, and love will cast it out."

The Directors' statement was the high light of the Annual Meeting of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts, which annually draws thousands of visitors to the Hub City from all parts of the world. This year, however, the audience was more localized due to unprecedented world conditions that keynoted most of the reports to the meeting. The Directors emphasized the world-wide emergency as presaging a more universal turning to spiritual enlightenment as the pathway to future world peace.

Meeting in their Mother Church under the world-enveloping shadow of what is probably the gravest threat to political and religious freedom since the advent of Christianity, the visitors were reminded in a report by The Christian Science Board of Lectureship that the union of Britain and America was foreseen forty-four years ago by Mary Baker Eddy, Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science, as the instrument through which the rights of free peoples everywhere might be permanently established and protected.

This welding together of the two great democracies, under the impact of an international crisis, said the Lecture Board, is the consummation of the fond hopes of all Christian Scientists. The Board alluded specifically to a poem written in 1898 by the Leader of this world-wide religious movement, Mrs. Eddy, which reads in part as follows:

"Brave Britain, blest America!
Unite your battle-plan;
Victorious, all who live it,—
The love for God and man."

Other prophetic statements of Mrs. Eddy foretelling the troublous times of today and giving assurance that the forces of right would inevitably win the day were cited by the Board of Directors. Particularly pertinent to the times was this one:

"The voice of God in behalf of the African slave was still echoing in our land, when the voice of the herald of this new crusade sounded the keynote of universal freedom, asking a fuller acknowledgement of the rights of man as a Son of God, demanding that the fetters of sin, sickness, and death be stricken from the human mind and that its freedom be won, not through human warfare, not with bayonet and blood, but through Christ's divine Science.

"God has built a higher platform of human rights, and He has built it on diviner claims. These claims are not made through code or creed, but in demonstration of 'on earth peace, good-will toward men'" (Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures, p. 226).

The Directors also announced the election of Mrs. Elizabeth F. Norwood of Brookline, Mass., as President of The Mother Church for the ensuing year. The chief duty of the President is to preside at the Annual Meeting.

The new President is the daughter of Isaac Paul Gragg, who served throughout the Civil War and was given the rank of Captain by Brevet for gallant and meritorious services. Her mother, Mrs. Eldora O. Gragg, C.S.D., was one of twelve students of Mrs. Eddy's chosen by her to form The Mother Church. She was also the first woman Reader in the Church.

Mrs. Norwood was born in Roxbury, Mass., and received her early education in the Girls Latin School of Boston and in private schools. She was a member of the Normal Class of the Board of Education of the Massachusetts Metaphysical College in 1922, thus becoming a teacher of Christian Science. She also served as Second Reader in The Mother Church from June, 1929, to June, 1932.

To the incoming President the times appeared to constitute a challenge to Christian Scientists to face unflinchingly "a duty beyond anything they have ever before been called upon to face." Yet in the face of this duty, she said, there is the authority of the Bible that "'the Lord's hand is not shortened that it cannot save'" and that "Christ's Christianity will free mankind from the bondage in which it is being held."

With this comforting assurance, the incoming President appraised world conditions in the light of another Red Sea of human doubts and fears through which mankind must be guided to higher spiritual ground by the power of divine intelligence. It is true, she said, that it seems necessary in the present-day conflict to resort to human means and methods against evil aggressors, yet the march forward can be taken safely and with confidence by putting on the breastplate of righteousness, the armor of God.

John Randall Dunn, retiring President, also referred to the times as an opportunity to prove that "the healing Christ is here, and that the light of Truth not only banishes the darkness of disease and sin, but can nullify all the hypnotic suggestions of the carnal mind, which seem to be working such mischief among the sons of men."

From the pages of the Scriptures and from the Christian Science textbook, Mr. Dunn cited many passages promising the victory of right over evil in no uncertain terms.

The report of the Board of Lectureship, read by Gavin W. Allan, referred to the recent statement of Winston Churchill, Prime Minister of Great Britain, "Never in the field of human conflict was so much owed by so many to so few," as a perfect phrasing. But lifting this phrasing out of the setting of war, the Board felt that it could aptly apply to Mrs. Eddy and her small group of followers who, a half-century or more ago, worked for the establishment of a vision that sought to bless all mankind.

Today the Board found that the establishment of Christian Science in some countries was being limited by the dictators, that some churches and institutions were being closed and confiscated, "But wherever multitudes of plain people in ordinary, everyday living cherish and practice the truths of their religion," the Board said, "its resurrection is assured."

Arthur W. Eckman, Manager of Committees on Publication, reported that service in the armed forces is bringing many young men closer to Christian Science because of its adaptability to their immediate problems. The radio continues to minister the healing truth to an ever-widening audience, said Mr. Eckman, and is bearing in growing measure the fruitage of physical healings.

The frequent reports of increasing wartime interest in religion as the streams of dependence upon material systems run low were accentuated by the announcement of the Trustees of The Christian Science Publishing Society that the sales of Bibles this year "are the largest in the history of the Publishing Society." Increased circulation of The Christian Science Journal, the Christian Science Sentinel and The Christian Science Monitor was also reported for the last 12 months. Literature of the Society was said still to be going to many parts of the world, arriving sometimes on delayed schedules, but nevertheless reaching Switzerland, Unoccupied France, Spain, Portugal, all parts of Africa, Australia, the British Isles, South America, New Zealand, India and Ceylon.

The report of the Treasurer for the fiscal year ending April 30, 1942, showed that the finances of The Mother Church were in sound condition, that aside from current bills and accrued taxes there was no indebtedness.

Other reports made to the meeting stressed the theme of greater opportunity in the emergency to base the future peace of the world upon a higher platform of human rights, one dictated by recourse to divine rather than to human intelligence.

THE HOME FRONT

Can we do it?

The President's production goal for 1942 is 60,000 planes, 45,000 tanks, 20,000 anti-aircraft guns and 8,000,000 tons of shipping.

We can do it and we are doing it. Nearly all the great sprawling war plants on the Illinois Home Front are breasting new production records, forging ahead to meet our goal. War, the decentralizer, has seen 31.1 per cent of new plants placed in Illinois and the Great Lakes states, an area that formerly did 31.5 per cent of the nation's manufacturing. Little has been added to industrial concentrations in New England and the middle Atlantic states for defense reasons.

No more tubas

Donald M. Nelson, chairman of the War Production Board and himself a resident of Glencoe, Ill., will tell the Illinois Home Front more about our part in the war when he addresses United Nations Day crowds at Soldier Field in Chicago June 14.

These events were news on the Illinois Home Front:

The U. S. is going to have less melody so that our aviators may sing a song of destruction over Germany and Japan. A recent WPB order stops manufacture of almost all musical instruments so that more guns may be fired, more bombs dropped. The 15,000 tons of war materials which went into pianos, saxophones and other musical instruments in 1940 would have supplied the iron for 11,500 six-ton army trucks, steel for 83 medium tanks, brass for 49,000,000 rounds of .30 caliber ammunition, copper for 500 155-mm field pieces, aluminum for 40,000 aircraft flares.

Paint brushes

Total industrial production is running about one and three-quarters times the 1935-39 average . . . The nation's two largest steel mills, the Gary and South Chicago plants of Carnegie-Illinois, hit new all-time high for blast furnace and steel output in May . . . Devoe and Raynolds, the paint concern, has launched a nation-wide campaign to bring in old paint brushes for reclaiming — because no more pig bristles for that use are coming from the Orient . . . Here's a finding by the National Industrial Conference Board that surely reflects a basic condition of the times: Analysis of the income statements of 270 corporations showed that corporate profits in the first quarter, before taxes, averaged 29 per cent ahead of the 1941 figures — but after reserves for taxes, they averaged 25 per cent below.

An unusual example of the new emphasis that war has put on "selling service" when priorities or other obstacles blast product-selling opportunities was related to the national Sales Executives convention. Tire selling overnight has broadened into a "consultant profession" so far as the truck field is concerned, earning fees on the basis of actual "vehicle-mile performance," said J. J. Newman, vice-president of B. F. Goodrich, explaining that under a new tire conservation service department, tire engineers of the rubber company supervise the whole program of tire maintenance and operation for concerns using fleets of buses and trucks. Under such contracts, he said, "where it is emphatically to the best interests of both operator and tire supplier to get the utmost service out of the tires," mileage and performance had greatly increased, sometimes doubled. He said that in bus service 60,000 miles per tire is "ordinary," 100,000 miles "not uncommon."

SRO on airplanes

Things to watch for . . . "Strap-hanging facilities for "Strap-hanging" facilities for transport airplane passengers on short trips. One line is considering selling "standing room" because of the shortage of seat space. . . . A new form of nylon which can be used as "type metal," cast, printed, cleaned with benzine, melted and recast . . . A light-radiating walking stick of unbreakable plastic, for use in blackouts, emitting either red or blue rays . . . More "MacArthurs" and fewer "Mikados" in trade names—a freight model locomotive by Baldwin is a case in point. Similarly, Eberhard-Faber changed its pencil trade name from Mikado to Mirado . . . A new radio-controlled relay device which automatically turns off the house lights when the local radio station goes off the air, as in a raid . . . Wooden soles for shoes, chemically treated to give them almost leather-like flexibility . . . "Victory Gardens" along railroad rights of way — the Chicago and Eastern Illinois has made available a total of 184 such acres to be worked free by the carrier's employes and the general public.

Christmas cards

Greeting card manufacturers are alarmed lest shortages in materials may bring about a discontinuance or diminution in the production of greeting cards in 1942. Pointing out that the first greeting card was published 100 years ago in England and that 3 billion cards will be sent by Americans in 1942, the industry points out that psychologically, socially, and economically, the greeting card helps maintain those intimate personal relationships which are the foundation of American unity. Economically, the greeting card produces an estimated 2 million in revenues and 50 million per year in postal revenues. Thus does the humble greeting card bulk large in our national life.

Atlantic charter

Remember the Atlantic Charter? It will observe its 1st birthday on August 14, 1942. It cantains 8 points which may be summarized as follows: The U. S. and Britain pledge (1) No territorial expansion; (2) no territorial changes which are not in accord with the expressed wishes of the people concerned; (3) the right of all peoples to select the kind of government they desire and the restoratoin of those governments which have been destroyed by force; (4) proper access to world trade and raw materials by all nations large and small, victor and vanquished (5) economic collaboration for the improvement of labor, security and economic standards; (6) destruction of Nazism followed by a secure peace accompanied by freedom from fear and want; (7) freedom of the seas; (8) abandonment of forces and ultimate world disarmament.

Railroads

Railroads have moved to tighten operations to meet growing war demands. Reduction or curtailment of luxury, convention and special trains was agreed on at a Chicago meeting, and other conversions determined upon to get maximum utilization of existing equipment. Since the war started in 1939, freight loads have increased more than 80 per cent, while passenger loads increased by 40 per cent. So far, the railroads have been able to meet all demands. On April 1 the railroads had 3,686 more locomotives and 232,000 more serviceable freight cars than on Sept. 1, 1939. Little hope of getting additional equipment is held, however, due to restrictions on materials.

Gas rationing

Congressional revolt against gas rationing almost reached a peak last Friday at an unofficial meeting of about one hundred Congressmen. Both parties were well represented although the Democratic members predominated. The intense heat outside was nothing compared with that that prevailed in the House Caucus Room where the meeting was held. Leon Henderson and other heads of Bureaus were roundly denounced. The movement threatens to result in the recinding of some of the emergency powers delegated under defense and war stress to the Executive Branch of the Government. Directly attacked were proposed country-wide rationing of gasoline, conflicts in pronouncements by government spokesmen on the rubber situation, the ODT "return haul" truck order, and other bureau and agency activities drawing protests from home states and districts of Congressmen.

Production

United States production of planes has reached the level of "nearly 5,000 a month," and by next year we will have reached the President's goal of 10,000 a month, the Senate Appropriations Committee announced. Army Air Forces Commander Arnold congratulated the Vega Aircraft Corporation at Burbank, California, on being 6 months ahead of schedule on production. WPB Chairman Nelson, after a tour of the automotive industry in Detroit, said American Industry could "more than double present production by 1944." He also said the government synthetic rubber program would be able to take care of "all war production and essential civilian needs" by 1944. Despite the fact that almost twice as many light arms are required per man since the development of parachute troops, the Army has enough weapons to arm every soldier in the United States, and all it can send abroad under present shipping conditions, War Under Secretary Patterson reported. He said over-optimism regarding production schedules is unwarranted, however, because of rubber, nickel and copper shortages.

A record total of 58 ships were delivered into service during May, while 65 other ships were launched and keels were laid for 75, the Maritime Commission reported. This compared with 36 delivered and 51 launched in April. The President asked Congress for an appropriation of $1,100,000,000 for the WSA to acquire and operate merchant vessels to carry American arms.

LIFE WITH MOTHER

Dear Mary,

I LIKE to think of the flag flying from the barn at Hill Top! . . . where's a more typical American family than yourselves? we've no big flag to fly down here at Shady Rest . . . but we do have no big flag to fly down here at Shady Rest . . . but we do have an army which drills each day in our back yard . . . it's composed of Davy, his friend Dale and Louis . . . Dale and Davy take turns at being the commanding officer . . . Louis is content to be a private . . . he seemingly has no ambitions and asks nothing more of the army than to be a part of it . . . it takes two officers, though, to keep this particular private in line . . . he's court martialled at least once a day . . . my poor, fat, good natured Louis! . . . in the midst of the most intricate maneuvers, he's been known to absent mindedly leave the ranks to run after a robin! . . . when the order to halt comes, he invariably bumps into the man in front of him almost knocking that soldier flat!

The other day I walked out into the yard and found the army going through its daily routine . . . Dave was stretched out in the deck chair and had taken over command . . . he was yelling orders at the top of his voice . . . I couldn't decide who was having more fun, he or the boys . . . but I could see that he imagined himself one of the sergeants up at Fort Sheridan whom we've watched drilling men . . . when he saw me, he gave a very loud command and then broke into a fit of coughing . . . "Darling," says I, the ever helpful spouse, "if your draft board knows of this, they'll grab you up immediately . . . for the Civil War Veterans!" . . . he was outraged . . . "Woman," he howled, between gasps, "leave the drill grounds." . . . I left . . .

My friend Marian left for Bloomington last Friday morning . . . her mother and sister Helen drove up and took the children down Thursday afternoon . . . Marian stayed to see the movers safely out of the apartment . . . weeks ago Dorothy Breidert invited her to spend the last night in town with her . . . I didn't know this and told Marian she was welcome at Shady Rest . . . imagine my surprise, when Wednesday afternoon at our last farewell luncheon Dorothy told Marian the guest room was ready for her . . . and Marian told Dorothy that she was so tired out that if it didn't matter too much she guessed she'd just stay with me as I was so much nearer. . . . now I ask you, are women people? . . . here was a chance for Marian to stay in one of the most charming old houses in Evanston . . . thirteen rooms of space . . . beautiful old furniture . . . (much of it antiques, that vou'd love) . . . it was Dorothy's home when we were in college . . . I still remember how much I enjoyed going there . . . then Dorothy is a perfect hostess and one of the most generous and likable persons I know . . . she and O. H., her husband, have only one child, a little girl about six . . . a quiet, beautifully mannered child . . . but Marian elects to come to us . . . sleep with Estelle . . . be awakened at the crack of dawn by Charlotte crying for her bottle . . . by Davy jumping on her bed to see who the stranger was . . . and by Louis dumping a toy truck on her knees! . . .

I tried your recipe for Post Toasty cookies and was delighted with them . . . Davy is allowed to take the cookie jar out with him when he gets up after his nap . . . he passes them out to Louis and all of the children who gather in the yard . . . I'm afraid that he thinks by now, that cookies are just one of the regular routines of the afternoon . . .

Dave's on his vacation . . . we made a bargain that he'd play house with me one day . . . I'd play golf with him the next day . . . week-ends are to take care of themselves much as usual . . . this last week-end the weather was beautiful . . . having no visitors and no engagements, we gardened . . . Dave turned over the front lawn and planted the very best seeds "for shady places" . . . we filled in all the bare spaces in the back yard and planted some fall asters given us by a neighbor . . . Dave made little fences around the flower beds to keep the boys from tramping on them . . . we were very proud of our work when we finished . . . we gazed fondly at everything and dreamed of what it would be like as soon as things began to grow . . . alas; for dreams . . . we had such a downpour of rain here Sunday afternoon and evening that I think it must have been a cloudburst . . . there were twelve inches of water in the basement . . . Dave had to turn off the fire in the furnace and the hot water heater because we were afraid the water would reach up over the pilot lights and cause an explosion . . . as for the grass seeds . . . they rolled down the hill in waves of water into our neighbor's yards! . . . and you want to make a gardener out of me! . . .

Today was a golf day . . . one of the men from the office was to come for us and take us out to play . . . however it looked so much like rain that the game was called off . . . poor Dave! . . . we're going to have dinner, though, with cousins Mary and Fred . . . Stop! . . . we've had dinner and an interesting evening with Mary and Fred . . . they took us to a small hotel down on Kenmore Avenue that they've discovered on one of their rambling walks . . . excellent food and plenty of it . . . you must meet this couple, darling, . . . I think they're the only relatives of mine that you don't know . . . they're in their early seventies now (ought to be celebrating their golden wedding anniversary soon) . . . they're both small, active and quick . . . birdlike they'd say in a book . . . Fred has a dry, droll humor . . . a shock of white hair that he twists between his fingers while talking exactly like I've always done! . . . they've never had any children . . . (have kept remarkably human in spite of that) . . . they've lived together so long and are so close that they never used the word I . . . it's always WE . . . their cards and letters are signed Fred and Mary . . . they've traveled everywhere . . . are interested in everything . . . specially music . . . they have a huge collection of classical records . . . Dave likes nothing better than to go down to their apartment and have Fred play these records for him . . . I like to listen to their stories of their travels and to look at their mementos of their trips . . . we always come home with one of their books . . . they had all the latest ones . . . this time I took a copy of Mein Kampf! . . . Fred said he couldn't read it . . . too boring . . . but I'm going to give it a try . . . It's a complete unabridged and fully annotated . . . by a list of ten editorial sponsors . . . the only one of whom I'm familiar with is John Gunther . . . I want to read it because . . . I quote from the introduction . . . "Here, then, in its entirety, for the American people to read and to judge for themselves, is the work which has sold in Germany by the millions, and which is probably the best written evidence of the character, the mind and the spirit of Adolf Hitler and his government." . . . I believe that though we don't agree with Hitler's ideas, we ought to know what they are because by understanding what he's trying to do, we can defeat him easier . . .

Mary had a lovely book for children written by her cousin, Fredrika Shumway Smith and illustrated by Salcia Bahne . . . it's called The House in the Trees . . . it would be suitable for Edward . . . but you, old bean, are the one who would really love the poems . . .

There's a glimmer of sunshine coming through the clouds so I'll stop now and get ready for a game of golf . . . hold your fingers crossed for us, please . . .

With love to everyone there from everyone here,

As always,

Eleanore.

Tumeric

A root of the giner family is tumeric. It has a rich, appetizing odor, and is bright yellow in color. Blending to a most appetizing flavor tumeric and mustard have long been used together. These two spices in varying proportions are ideal for pickles and almost every meat and egg dish.

CIVIL SERVICE EXAMS

Men with 1-A Draft classification are urgently needed for training in the signal corps. Initial salaries range from $1,020 to $1,800 per annum. The training period is of three to six months' duration. For further details, apply to the local Civil Service secretary at the nearest first or second class post office.

Investigators to perform investigative work for Federal agencies are being sought through an announcement released today by the United States Civil Service Commission. The salary is $2,600 a year. It is expected that positions will be filled in Washington, D. C., and throughout the United States. Appointees will probably be in a travel status for the greater part of the time. The work will be of a confidential character, in which the investigator must meet and confer with individuals in all walks of life. The data developed must be assembled in written reports.

Experience is required either in making investigations in connection with the prosecution of civil or criminal cases, in the general practice of law, which included court presentation or investigation in preparing cases for trial, or in responsible positions which required the exercise of tact and independent judgment in meeting and dealing with the public. Education completed in an accredited college may be substituted for a part of the experience. Persons with legal education and appropriate experience are particularly desired.

Applicants must be at least 25 and not over 55 years. A written test will be given to competitors to determine their aptitude for learning and adjusting to the duties in the service. Applications must be filed with the Civil Service Commission, Washington, D. C., and will be accepted until the needs of the service have been met.

So that additional persons may have the opportunity to apply for positions in the Government Printing Office, the closing dates for Bindery Operative and Printer, Monotype Keyboard Operator, have been extended to June 30, 1942. Applications for these positions must be filed with the Commission's Washington office not later than that date.

The appointments will be for the duration of the war and for no longer than 6 months thereafter. Announcements and forms for applying may be obtained from the secretary of the Board of U. S. Civil Service Examiners, at the post office or custom house in this city, or from the Secretary of the Board of U. S. Civil Service Examiners, at any first or second class post office.

Save Our Children from War Debt

Copyright

The Japanese, by using their money and the money of conquered nations over and over as a revolving fund, are able to pay all expenses as they go without borrowing, and, with low paid labor and cheap living, they can use one third of their man power in the army, one third producing war supplies and one third producing food and fight forever, growing like a snow ball down hill to engulf the world and thereby get riches and slaves from conquered nations. This is a handicap for Uncle Sam.

Uncle Sam should repeal the Federal Reserve and private bank laws and cease stamping "legal tender" on bank checks and then issue all of our money according to the Constitution and use every dollar issued from his depositories (Deps) over and over, every dollar each time it is re-deposited in his Deps to buy a dollar's worth for the protection and benefit of all of the people. He can use postoffices, and buildings needed for Deps. Money would change hands rapidly as exchange receipts with no rake-off to banker, or anyone else and only labor, material and lives would be lost to carry on the war. About all, in the last analysis, would be labor.

Under this system there would be absolute confidence, no bank failures, no panics, no loss of homes from lack of credit, no "inflation" scare crow, an even trend in business without undue fluctuations in prices. Money in circulation would increase and decrease according to needs for money and credit, and it would make no difference as to how many billions of legal tenders were stacked in the U. S. Deps. "The wise money changers would be driven from the Temple." Uncle Sam would give direct credit to all debtors. The interest going into his Deps would soon produce 15 to 20 billion dollars revenue each year without taxation. As the debtors paid their debts to Uncle Sam, they would pay their share of the whole debt to themselves.

There is a limit to debt beyond which we dare not go. If we have to fight for five years under our present system, we may have a bond indebtedness of $500 billion which surely will exceed the limit. We will be whipped by debt, enslaved by bond holders and left in misery under cruel masters who will not hesitate to rivet the bands of slavery around our necks. We'll get worse if conquered.

We are all in this war and each of us must do his part. Mr. Money Bunch, Mr. Talent and Mr. Labor will have to disgorge according to ability and be drafted to work for what is allowed, or get what deserters from the army get.

Come ye honest politicians and ye profound thinkers, forget your selfish interests, get down to the curbstones of Justice, and figure as you never figured before to find a way to pay as we go. It can be done. It must be done without delay if we are to save America and Humanity.

As the bankers of America knew all about Meyer Anselm Rothschild's legalized bank counterfeits and the power this system would give them, the ink on the new Constitution was not dry before they were scheming to violate this Charter of Freedom. By specious, sophisticated arguments, aided by sinister influences, they fastened this trick money system on the American people, 1791. It still works stealthily to corral the wealth into the hands of a few thousand bankers and many thousand cahooters.

If Congress refuses to establish a just money system now, (1942) what hope can we, the people, have for the much talked about "New Justice" after the war is over? Won't the gang and special privileged be there to overawe the friends of justice and be able to safeguard their schemes? There are many ways to deprive the people of their Constitutional rights to rule this country.

Whether Uncle Sam continues to cater to the money changers to build up huge debt for future generations to pay, or uses the people's money as a revolving fund to pay all expenses as we go, the loss of labor producing things that do not add to the comforts of life so curtails the supply of necessities that the people must submit to drastic regulative laws for the duration. Q. E. D.

According to Beard's "Rise of the American Republic," the history of Congress is a long sordid story of dirty partisan politics and protected grab in the cessions of the public land and the untold natural wealth of this country to speculating syndicates, and granting special privileges, but not until some M. C.'s were assured their rake off. They are not much to blame, being subjected to temptations beyond human resistance, and, to remain in office, they must cater to the plunderbund, cliques and blocs that are determined to rule or ruin.

All this created a plutocratic oligarchy of the strong and cunning from which there seems to be no escape as long as Congress has absolute power to do as it pleases with the people's laws, lives and property. They admit that something must be done, but have no sane hows. King Plunderbund must be dethroned.

Here's How —

Voters must break away from narrow, selfish partisan politics (a demon) and demand amendment to the Constitution to provide for the "Initiative Commission Referendum" to take the place of Congress and legislatures. Then the people could propose laws and have all proposed laws submitted to a vote of the people for ratification — laws that no court could annul and no executive could veto.

This would establish a non-partisan, stable progressive "Democracy" that would get general acquiescence of the people, for they would hold their right to correct their mistakes and to propose new laws to meet changing conditions without a long, useless fight with the plunderbund and the cahooting foghorn politicians.

These are truths worthy of consideration, even by automaton old routiners who can't see, or at best, they only see the tricks in their own trades.

Invade Now! Help the down trodden in an united onslaught for victory this year. Jab 'em here, jab 'em there, jab 'em everywhere.

Slept in Car, Justified

The girls have the law on their side even if their husbands do not follow them to the street. An officer in Long Island city, returning to his radio car after time out for coffee, found a woman making herself at home. He demanded that she get out, and when she refused he declared her under arrest and drove her to the station house. Her story was that she had quarreled with her husband, walked out on him, and since it was 4 a. m., had taken shelter where she found it. The magistrate said that any woman so circumstanced was justified in taking possession of a squad car.

Twilight Stars Enter Paddock Golf Tourney

Arlington and Des Plaines leagues challenge B'ville for supremacy

Low net champ Teichert heads Rob Roy entries

Entries to the Paddock Publications 2nd annual amateur golf tournament to be played at Mohawk Golf club in Bensenville on June 21 and 28, consecutive Sundays, continue to pour in at a record club as the official closing date June 15 draws near. The tournament will be over 36 holes, 18 on each Sunday, with starting times on both days beginning at 11 a. m. The entry fee of $2.00 includes green fees and locker room accommodations for the entire meet.

The fact that the golf department heralded Bensenville as the "No. 1 golf community" last week, based on advance entries to the tourney, apparently aroused the Arlington Heights and Des Plaines twilight leagues no little. Word was received from Arlington Heights' officers, Bud McKaig, president, and league secretary, Carl Berlin, winner of the 2nd low net medal in the 1941 Paddock tourney, that they will at least match Bensenville's early list of twelve entries.

Rob Roy Loop Enters Six Sharp-shooters

Official entries were received from six Des Plaines stars, members of the Des Plaines Twilight League, which plays its matches on Thursdays at Roy Roy Country club. John Alonge, president of the loop and responsible for the entries, stated there would be more by the end of this week. The Rob Roy list included Frank De Falco, Frank Foote, Bill Teichert, Al Edenberg and Alonge. The Arlington Heights league's representation listed: Carl Berlin, Tilford M. Foy, Leonard Arnold, Shelby Stewart, Ernie Simmons, Schaeffer, Frank Campbell, Poggensee, Dick Wilkie, Roger Fricke, Marshall Balling and Dick Bokelman. These lads have been touring Mt. Prospect's front and back nines in scores ranging from 36 to 43. Off recent performances, Arnold, Simmons and Foy rate as the hot-shots of the Arlington contingent. All six of the Des Plaines shooters are tough competitors.

Two Large Cups and Four Silver Medals

Play will be for two large, beautiful silver plated cups, one for low gross and the other for low net, and four sterling silver medals, two for second lows and two for thirds. Ties for low gross prizes will be played off by way of an extra hole or holes, as many as are necessary to determine a winner. Low net ties will be handled by draw. Playoffs are impossible because the handicaps of the contestants involved may differ.

The popular and much-used CDGA handicap system will again be in effect. To determine a player's handicap nine holes are drawn from a hat, five 4-par holes, two 5s and two 3s. The player's total on these nine holes is doubled. Par of the course is subtracted from this sum. 80 per cent of this difference is the player's handicap. This handicap will remain unchanged for the second 18.

Entries Close Next Monday

Monday, June 15, is the official closing date for entries. Mail or deliver your entry blank and fee to the Amatur Golf Tournament chairman, Paddock Publications, Arlington Heights.

Polo shifts to Park Ridge

Polo, which was concentrated at Oak Brook in Hinsdale last year, will shift this season to the field at River rd. and Devon ave. in Park Ridge, with tournament games each Sunday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, starting this weekend, June 14.

Launching the Suburban Cups tournament Sunday will be Park Ridge and Woodland polo clubs. The lineups will include some of the best known players in the middle west.

For Park Ridge, it will be Del Townsend of Des Plaines, E. J. Drije of Berwyn, Claude Mackey of Park Ridge, George Biddle and Julius Lencioni of Chicago. Woodland will take the field with Rudy Maslek of La Grange, Jerry Fordon of Berwyn, Gene Bauer and Jerry Freud of Chicago, and Wade (Red) Woodworth, famous all-conference guard on the Northwestern University grid teams of 1930 and 1931.

Other teams entered in the tourney are Evanston headed by Len Bernard, Salt Creek, and the Suburban Troopers.

Bobby Bond has been named as referee of Sunday afternoon's encounter. An added attraction on the occasion will be the appearance of the great Mel Tierney Post drum and bugle corps. Men in uniform will be admitted without charge, while admission for the public will be 30c cents a person. Parking space for 1,000 automobiles will be provided at each side of the playing field, and there is no charge for parking.

Left to right, are Glanz Dierking of Bensenville, low gross winner, Alex Kouzmanoff, Bensenville, runnerup, Bill Teichert of Des Plaines, low net champ, and Carl Berlin, Prospect Heights runnerup. This year's tourney is drawing an even bigger entry list with prizes of two handsome trophy cups and four medals to be awarded. Entries close Monday. Arlington softball season opens

The opening games of the 1942 softball season were played last week at Recreation Park despite rainy weather and wet grounds. Scores of those games indicate a close championship race and plenty of interesting contests for the fans to watch.

Benjamin Electric got off to a good start with three runs in the first inning and four in the second to whip Gaare Studebakers, 7-5. A four run rally in the sixth by the losers was stopped short when Joe Brodnan hauled down a line smash for the third out with the tying runs coming in.

CYO beat Rudy Stein's entry (formerly Leo's) with a seventh inning rally good for two runs and the game. The losers had taken the lead with a cluster of three runs in the sixth, but could not hold their margin. The score was 4 to 3.

Heidorn's team scored four runs in the sixth and one in the seventh to beat Mt. Prospect 8-4. The game was featured by some long-distance clouting by Koelling and Doyle.

Games scheduled for the third and fourth weeks of play are listed below.

Week of June 15

Mon.—CYO vs. Heidorn.
Wed.—Rudy's vs. Gaare.
Thursday—Mt. Prospect vs. Benjamin Electric.

Week of June 22

Mon.—Heidorn vs. Gaare.
Wed.—Mt. Prospect vs. CYO.
Thur.—Rudy's vs. Benjamin Electric.

Looking back at last year's Paddock Publications Amateur Golf Tournament: Eleven communities were represented in the field of forty-two entries. Bensenville led the pack with seventeen. The rest were in this order: Arlington Heights, 5; Des Plaines, 5; Mt. Prospect, 3; Palatine, 3; Wheeling, 3; Prospect Heights, 2; Itasca, 2; Morton Grove, 1; Skokie, 1; Mohawk Country club, 1. Glanz Dierking of Bensenville was the best golfer on the course by virtue of his 78-75 rounds. Alex Kouzmanoff, also of Bensenville, was second low in gross with 78-76 — 154. Bill Teichert of Des Plaines, flying the colors of the Mt. Prospect Country club twilight league, was the low net king with a 137 net for the 36. Carl Berlin of Prospect Heights pressed Teichert with his 141. . . The youngest players in the tournament were Melvin Vogt and Donald Iverson of Palatine. . . . The highest 18-hole total was a 125 by Anthony Scolaro of Arlington Heights. Scolaro is shooting all his bogies now for Uncle Sam. . . The most unusual round was Alex Kouzmanoff's opening 78 — twelve 5's and six 3's. Not a 4 on the card. . . . A pair of unusual rounds were those of Robert Linderman of Bensenville — identical 80's and all four nines were 40's. . . The longest first drive was that of Ernie Simmons of Arlington Heights, founder of the golf leagues. Ernie all but knocked the cover off the ball with a terrific 275-yard wallop down the center of the fairway. . . . Glanz Dierking and Walter Schloman of Itasca shared the best nine-hole totals with 35's on the back nine. . . Recreation under pressure of competition, sportsmanship, wholesome fun and thrills galore — that's the Paddock Publications Annual Amateur Golf Tournament!

Tennessee

The name of Tennessee was bestowed on that state by the original Indian settlers. It means "river with the great bend."

IT'S THE LAW

They All Have A Word For It

So important is the principle of giving Notice that it is not strange that practically all civilized people — and even savage tribes — have followed this custom. In some cases they have done so for centuries.

In English, this is called "being put on Notice," and the form it takes is the Public Notice. If it is printed it may also be called Legal or Official Advertising. The underlying principle is that where the rights of others — individual or public are involved, such persons have a fundamental right to due Notice.

Take the familiar abbreviation, "N. B." While not a prescribed legal form, it stands for the Latin nota bene, meaning "note well." The French post notices in public places such as the post office or telepraph office. They call such notices affiches. They have another noun, avis, which is similar to the English "advice" in the sense of information. In German to give Notice is to give Ankundigung which is offenlich, or public, if personal, and amtlich, if official. In Italian the equivalent of Notice is notizie.

But in any language it means about the same. To be put on Notice is to be put on one's guard or forever hold his peace. Whatever the circumstances, whatever the language, both steps are vital: to give due Notice, and to take heed accordingly.
